Court nod on fire pact, maybe

Randall County commissioners Monday balked on a $14,000 fire contract with the city of Amarillo, approved another contract, rescinded it and then approved on a temporary basis the one they had refused.

Jerry McGurie, Amarillo assistant city manager, told county officials that the cost per fire last year to the city was $1,040 on 2,544 calls and that the Amarillo department had answered 14 calls in rural Randall County.

He said the $14,560 figure presented to the county was reckoned in this manner.

Commissioners Dee Griffin and John Fulgenzi, both from South Amarillo, voted for a motion to approve the contract. Commissioners Jim Fletcher and Paul Lindsey voted against the measure and Judge Woody Pond cast a negative tie breaker.

Then there was a period of agonizing. Griffin worried that fire protection would run out with the existing contract Oct. 1. That pact was signed for $10,000.

This, he said, would leave rural areas in the north part of Randall County, including industrial sites, with little or no fire protection. "This might cause us to lose industry which might be planning to locate here," he went on, "and we need industry."

Lindsey offered a resolution to sign for $12,000. It carried.

There was more agonizing. "One big industry coming in could pay for that fire contract for the next 10 years," Griffin reasoned. He said the contract should be approved with stipulation that Amarillo notify the county next year three months early on what a new contract would cost.

"They gave us that figure about three months ago and nobody objected," declared the court's administrative assistant, Carroll Wilson.

"Well we could go ahead and sign their contract and then talk to them," said Lindsey. "We could cancel it in 30 days anyway."

Lindsey's earlier motion was rescinded and the court voted to sign the contract offered by the city of Amarillo with the reservation stipulated by Commissioner Lindsey.

Commissioners approved an amendment to revise their 1976-77 fiscal year budget just three days before the new budget year begins.

The amendment, prepared for commissioners by county auditor Bill Tirey and Wilson, calls for use of an anticipated 1976 year-end surplus of nearly $300,000 in the budget for the upcoming fiscal year.

Wilson and Tirey estimated the county coffers would have a surplus of about $187,000 at the close of the 1976-77 fiscal year in September 1977.

Revenues for the year, according to the amendment, will be $2,277,000 and expenditures will be $2,380,000 for a projected year-end deficit of $102,000.

However, the amendment also projects a surplus from the current fiscal year and fiscal year 1975 of $290,000 which will not only offset the anticipated $102,000 deficit, but which will also leave an anticipated surplus of about $187,000 at the close of the year in 1977, Wilson and Tirey said.

A major portion of the anticipated deficit, Wilson said, is due to an underestimated cost put into the original budget for paving two roads north of Canyon—Sundown Lane East of the Canyon Expressway, and a road connecting Spur 48 with Hunsley Road north of West Texas State University. Commissioners had originally estimated cost of paving at $60,000, but revised that estimate after the original budget was adopted to $120,000.

In other business, commissioners reviewed an eight-page report from Wilson concerning the fees of office charged by several county office-holders under state law.

The report noted difficulty in obtaining true figures to use in determining unit or item cost estimates to help estimate whether the fees being charged in specific offices are equitable, Wilson said.

He noted that reports of the various office-holders do not allow a cost break-out so item-cost versus fee income can be determined.

Along with the report, Wilson presented five recommendations based on his research.

One recommendation was that commissioners meet with district judges involved with the administration of the Potter County Adult Probation Department to discuss the legality of the current fee return structure.

Wilson told commissioners the probation department is now prorating office costs and expenses to Randall County for payment based on 1970 population figures. But, he said, the department is returning fees to the county based only on the number of Randall County probationers who pay fees into the department.

Wilson's report cited a view by Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod that the law, in referring to the return of monies to counties from probation departments, stipulates a pro-rata system be used with population the standard.

Wilson also recommended the commissioners meet with representatives of the Bushland School District and the South Randall County Hospital District to discuss the possibility of hiring the commission the

Homecoming gets going

Canyon High School is in the process of getting homecoming underway. Activities are scheduled throughout the week in preparation for the annual event.

Friday, prior to the game with the Plainview Bulldogs, the 1976 homecoming queen will be crowned. Four senior girls have been nominated for the title.

Rite bans boys

Does the specific exclusion of boys as contestants for Canyon High's homecoming queen violate federal regulations barring sexual discrimination?

CHS principal John Sommer says he doesn't care if it does and, W. V. McAlpin, CISD administrative assistant who has been in charge of surveying school practices for discrimination, says he doesn't know.

Asked about the exclusion of males from the queen elections this week at the high school, Sommer said, "If it did, (violate laws) it wouldn't bother me a bit. It has never occurred to me."

"Irregardless, it would have my blessing," he said. "Boys normally are not thought of as queens."

A homecoming king contest would draw his approval, Sommer said.

Reminded that numerous colleges and universities have elected male students as homecoming queens, Sommer snapped, "We're not a university."

McAlpin said he would have to ask for a specific ruling from Health, Education and Welfare before he would know if sexual discrimination laws were being violated.

"I don't know if this comes under the heading of the father-son, mother-daughter deal or not," he said. Earlier this year, President Gerald Ford stepped in to stop HEW from ruling that father-son school activities were discriminatory.

"I don't think you can ask specifically for male or females," he said.

Because the honor is an elected one run by the students, McAlpin said the rules may be different.

"If it was the school giving the honor, I don't think we could specify male or female," he said.

"The next time I'm around some of those people (from HEW) I'll ask."

Wilson to return

Carroll Wilson has resigned as administrative assistant to Randall County commissioners' court after a two-month stint in that post and is returning to The Canyon News as associate publisher.

Wilson was managing editor of The News until he took the administrative job with the county in August.

In his new post as associate publisher, Wilson will participate in ownership.

As a college student, he came to The News in 1968 as a reporter and continued in that capacity until he was called into the armed forces in 1970. He served as a commissioned officer.

Returning to The News two years later, he assumed the role of managing editor, a position he held until Aug. 1.

Publisher Troy Martin announced the realignment of management of the 79-year-old newspaper Wednesday.

"I think it is a great thing for the newspaper and the community," declared Martin. "During the two months he has been away, we at the newspaper found out how much we miss Carroll and I think maybe Carroll learned how much he missed being at the newspaper."

The publisher said Wilson will play a prominent role in management.

Martin said he will give more of his personal effort to management of Staked Plains Press, a publishing operation which is a part of The News.

Laurie Telfair will remain as news editor and will contribute to the Sunday editorial pages.

"Mrs. Telfair is an experienced and knowledgeable newspaperwoman and we are fortunate to have her on our staff," Martin declared.

Presidential house plans get bigger, more expensive

An amazed Dr. Lloyd Watkins watched Monday while regents rejected the plans for a proposed university president's residence to ask for something grander.

The architectural firm of Hucker and Parge first presented floor plans for a house totaling about 3,300 square feet and an estimated construction cost of $22 a square foot.

Regents questioning the amount of space for entertaining in the proposed home also began to question the suitability.

The architect replied that the home he had designed was an attempt to get the most design for the $100,000 budget he was told to work with.

"It will not give you the type of residence you will be proud of," he said.

He suggested adding another 1,000 square feet to a design and planning for a construction cost of $40-$45 a square foot.

"We should not be afraid to spend more than $100,000," one regent said.

The $100,000 price tag was set because, regents said, expenditures over that amount must be approved by the Coordinating Board.

Called on to comment, Dr. Watkins said, "I was hoping someone would ask for my comments. This discussion has taken a turn of events that I had not anticipated. It was never my intent to do more than the maximum $100,000."

"What I want to make known,

whatever you do, that this is not a house for me and my family. It's for the president of the university, no matter who that is.

"I've never acquiesced to anything beyond the $100,000 maximum."

Watkins' present home has 3,200 square feet. This was adequate to entertain groups up to about 50 people, he said.

The regents decided to discuss the official residence again at the December meeting.

The board approved a bid from Wiley Hicks, Jr. for construction of a utility tunnel for the university. Hicks' bid of $201,093 as a base and $135,843 and $14,888 for alternates was low among the five contractors.

In addition, the board acted on a number of routine, housekeeping items.

Regents support sports status-quo

West Texas State University board of regents scattered praise and support for both university president Dr. Lloyd Watkins and athletic director Gene Mayfield following an executive session included in the regents' fall meeting Monday.

After the brief private session, the chairman Jack Shelton read this statement:

"The board has evaluated the function and utilization of the position of assistant to the president for intercollegiate athletics and has determined, based on the experience of the past several months and the recommendation of President Watkins, that the position has benefited the administration of this department and has assisted in carrying out the policy of the board, a policy strongly supported by President Watkins, of maintaining a broad-based and competitive program of intercollegiate athletics; accordingly, the position of assistant to the president for intercollegiate athletics will be retained."

"We are pleased to report that the internal operations and personnel of the athletic department have been reviewed by the board and we fully support the athletic director in the fulfillment of his program and will work to further its operation."

"In looking forward to the 1977-78 year, and the future financial requirements, of intercollegiate athletics I would like to appoint a regent's committee composed of regents Osborne, Curry and myself (Shelton) to meet with appropriate officers and directors of the Buffalo Club to initiate planning for securing future contributions and funding to intercollegiate athletics."

"Finally, the board would like to indicate its approval and strong support of the present university administration."

The contract for basketball coach Ron Ekker was discussed briefly in the meeting, Shelton said.

Criticism had been leveled recently at Watkins, Ekker and the board by former regent Boone Pickens, who said Ekker was circumventing athletic director Mayfield by going directly to Watkins for decisions.

Pickens had also criticized Watkins for poor leadership.

Water up-grade to be costly

City officials expect to spend eventually more than $500,000 to meet federal Safe Drinking Water Act standards, but, for now, they hope to get a variance from the regulations approved.

Canyon's water supply was named along with 21 others in the area as not meeting federal water standards.

The fluoride level is much too high, according to the standards. City water contains 3.1 milligrams per liter of fluoride compared to the maximum of 1.6 parts.

"We've looked at the situation and at all the possible ways to reduce the level," water supervisor Robert Rogers said Tuesday.

The best way will probably be to install de-fluoridation equipment.

WT co-op to be eyed

Houston lawyer Dee Osborne was appointed to head a regents' committee to study affiliating West Texas State University with some other university system.

The assigned topic, with broad limits, includes everything from forming a West Texas system to merely looking at ways to cooperate with other universities.

Board of regents chairman, Jack Shelton said Monday after the regents held their fall meeting that the committee would investigate affiliating the university with the University of Texas system.

Or, he said, they might explore forming a system with other universities in the west part of the state. This union, if accomplished, would probably include Texas

Layman's weekend to begin

A 42-hour lay renewal weekend is planned by Calvary Baptist Church for the coming weekend, Oct. 1-3, with James McManus of Frederick, Oklahoma as coordinator.

The week-end of activities will include about 35 visiting teams for the revival. The team members will be housed for the week-end at homes of various church members.

The revival week-end will include a special service Friday evening, as well as daytime and evening services on Saturday.

The regular Sunday worship hours will be observed Oct. 3 with each church member and other interested individuals welcome to participate.

According to figures projected by the West Texas State University director of institutional research, West Texas state's enrollment will remain constant or increase slightly over the next five years.

"I believe WT's enrollment will fluctuate between 6,800 and 6,800," said Delton Moore, a WT graduate who has worked for the National Center for Education Statistics in Washington, D. C.

Moore made his projections using yearly counts of state high school graduates and WT's student retention ratios from grade to grade.

Projections made by the Texas Education Agency and the US

Department of Health, Education and Welfare parallel this trend, revealing that the number of high school seniors will increase only slightly until the early 1980's, after which the numbers will begin to drop.

"That will be the end of the baby boom kids that came after World War II," he said.

The declining public school populations in the Texas Panhandle will also play a significant role in the enrollment at WT, which draws approximately 75 percent of its students from this region.

"Approximately 25 percent of our beginning freshmen come from the Panhandle's high school graduating seniors," Moore said. WT's number of freshmen has been declining since 1970.

Other important factors affecting enrollment have been the draft and the availability of veteran's benefits for education.

WT's enrollment peaked with the Viet Nam War, and in 1969 and 1970 reached all-time highs of 7,935 and 7,905. As the draft was phased out, the enrollment dropped to levels established before the escalation of the war.

After a drop to 6,574 in 1972, WT's enrollment climbed slowly to last year's figure of 6,701.

This semester it met with yet another military obstacle — the expiration of some veterans' eligibility for benefits. Those who were in active service before June 1966 had their benefits terminated on June 1, 1976, and this semester's veteran enrollment dropped 200 from last year's count.

Moore's projections that WT's enrollment will stabilize are based on trends established in traditional student categories.

If WT is able to increase its appeal to non-traditional students, or to add new programs that draw another segment of the student population, then there is a chance that enrollment might increase slightly, according to Moore.

University's enrollment expected to remain constant

Homecoming Eagles to face Plainview

The Canyon High School football team, which is now 2-2 on the season, will take on Plainview at 7:30 p.m. this Friday in Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium in what will be the school's Homecoming.

"I don't know if Homecoming will have an effect on our team or not," said head coach Deane Wright. "Sometimes Homecoming will have an adverse effect because the kids get involved in all kinds of other activities, the bonfires and the pep rallies which tend to take their minds away from the game. Different ball clubs react differently, I just hope ours reacts positively."

Wright is much more concerned about Plainview, which is 1-3 on the season, than Homecoming.

"Their defense has been their strength the whole year except in the last ball game in which Amarillo High beat them 35-0. It was one of those ball games where nothing you could do was right. They had a lot of turnovers, a lot of intercepted passes and consequently were beaten real badly."

"Plainview is the kind of ball club that shows you a whole lot of offense, different types of plays, they like to throw the ball, they like to run. They have some patterns where they have one receiver out and you don't know it is a pass coming up until they complete it. And then they have patterns where they have three or four people out."

"Their secondary is playing real well and no one has thrown the ball against them real well."

The big question this Friday is if Canyon will be adept at quarterback. Last week Ricky Cooper, the Eagles ace signal caller, sustained a knee injury and could not execute any option plays adequately.

"I don't know what we are going to do now," said Wright. "If Ricky is able to play well we will throw the ball. Against a ball club like Plainview you need to be running the ball."

Bowlers begin season

The WTSU bowling team traveled to New Mexico State University last weekend for their first conference tournament. The women's team returned with first place and the men placed second.

Regina Hillier of WT scored the highest series total for the meet with 893 points. Debbie Dawley totaled second highest series with 886 points, she also scored the highest game with 209.

The girls' team, which also included Elizabeth Comerford, Cindy Kelley and Vanessa Word, put WTSU in first place in conference standings with a 44.98 point total. NMSU is in second place standings with 41.10 points.

Steve Dunagan lead the WT men's team with a 927 point series with Larry Robard in second with 922 points. High game score for the meet was taken by Lynn Hillier with 258.

Volleyball women play in TWU meet

West Texas State's women's volleyball team will be in Lubbock Tuesday evening to face Abilene Christian and McMurray before traveling to Denton over the weekend to compete in the Texas Women's University Tournament which begins on Friday.

WT had troubles last week-end when they competed in a round-robin tournament in Lubbock. After getting by Angelo St. 15-12, 15-10, the Buffs dropped three straight. Abilene Christian defeated WT 15-10, 14-12, then Texas Tech squeezed by 15-12, 15-8. The Buffs then fell to New Mexico St. 10-15, 15-6, 15-6.

The Buffs, who are now 4-6, are experiencing defensive problems along with others. Coach Alma Ramsey says that another problem might be the pressure.

"We look good at times, but we're having problems playing under pressure," said Ramsey. "It just seems like when we make mistakes, we lose six points before we recover."

Cyclethon fundraiser is planned

The annual "cyclethon" fundraising effort for the Randall County Unit of the American Heart Association has been set for Oct. 16.

Prizes will be awarded in each of the divisions based on total contributions. The cyclethon is set to begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m.

Categories for the cyclethon this year will include a pre-school section for tricycle riders and two-wheelers to be staged on the parking lot of First National Bank. Other categories will include grades 1-6, grades 7-9, high school and college, and adults.

Each cyclethon participant must complete application blanks which are being distributed throughout the public schools and university this week.

TWO-THREE OR NOT TWO-THREE, THAT IS THE QUESTION

Since the announcement of 40 channel expansion, many people in the CB industry have shown signs of instability. It is likely that this is due to the many rumors that have been passed around since the announcement. We feel it is time to separate fact from rumor, and to educate the industry and consumer.

FACT: After 1/1/77, 40 channel sets will be available for sale if FCC type accepted. They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, 23 channel sets will still be manufactured and sold. They will be more expensive than current 23 channel sets.

FACT: After 1/1/77, ALL CB transceivers type accepted after 9/20/76 must have a 60 dB Harmonic radiation suppression. They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, ALL CB transceivers must not exceed 2 nanovolts (2 billionths of a volt) receiver radiation at the antenna terminal. They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, on ALL CB transceivers, the chassis or cabinet radiation must not exceed 5 uV/Meter at a distance of 3 meters (approximately 5 millionths of a volt per yard measured at nearly 10 feet from the set). They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, all serial numbers must be stamped or engraved into new CB chassis. They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, all newly manufactured CB's must be packed with a copy of Part 95, a temporary license form, and a permanent license form. They will be more expensive.

FACT: The tighter specifications listed above do not improve CB performance, but only reduce potential for interference to certain business/industrial frequencies. They will be more expensive.

FACT: If all CB sales after 1/1/77 were 40 channel sets, and if sales continued at the present rate, 23 channel sets would still outnumber 40 channel sets for several years.

FACT: The majority of communications will still be on the present 23 channels.

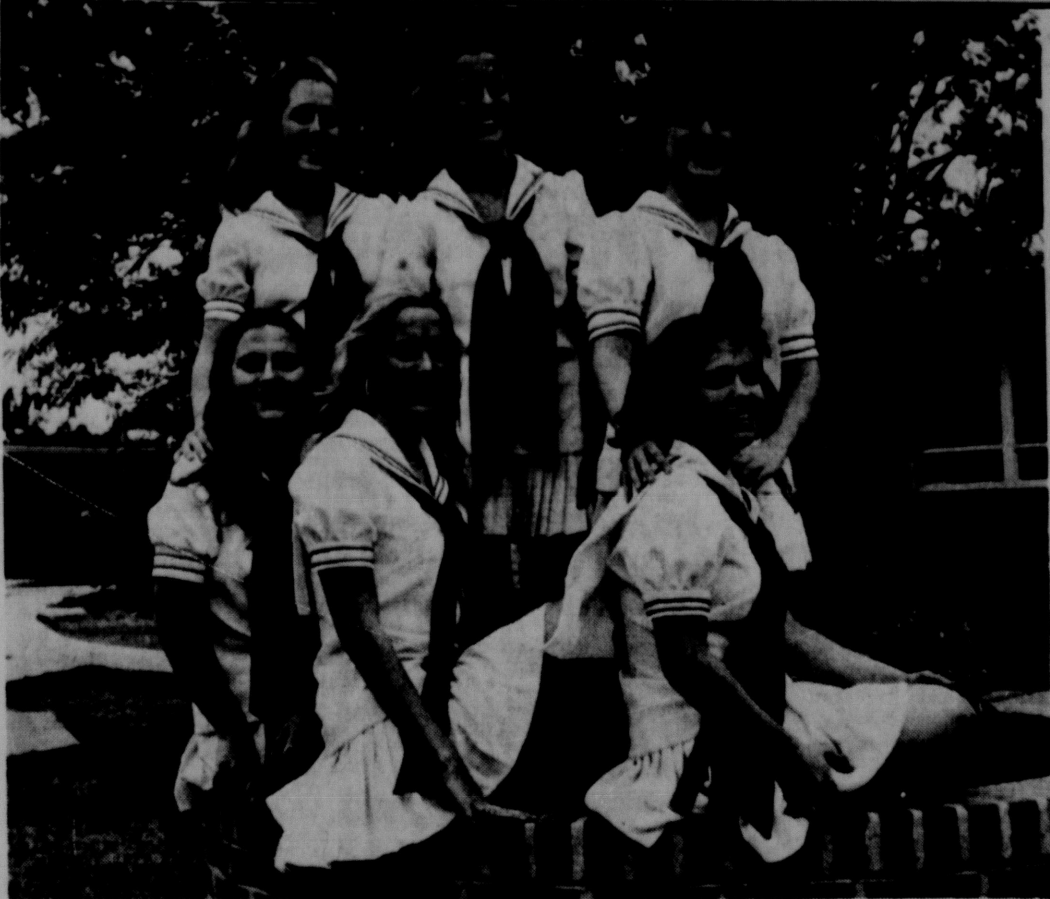

FACT: Today's 23 channel sets represent a bargain to the consumer—we must inform him that prices will increase dramatically after 1/1/77.

RUMOR: 23 channel sets will become obsolete on 1/1/77. If you still believe this rumor after reading the above facts, please return to FACT #1 and read again.

More seating available for WT's basketball fans

Over 200 new prime seat locations for the general public and the addition of new floor seating for WTSU students are the main features of a new seating plan for Buffalo basketball games in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum, announced this week by head coach Ron Ekker.

The change primarily concerns section 108 at midcourt on the east side of the arena. This section had previously been a student section, but in the future will be for sale to the general public.

In return, students will be receiving additional seating on the floor on either side of the "Buffalo Chips" pep band. In the past, this has been a "technical towel" section.

"We want to add the student seating on the floor because it helps give us a home court advantage and it also adds to the game atmosphere," Ekker explained.

Of the approximately 5,500 seats in the Civic Center for Buffalo basketball, 2,000 are reserved for students. All 200 of the student floor seats will be on the sideline with an additional 400 general admission seats in the end zones.

4-H club views judging films

T-Anchor 4-H Club met recently for the viewing of a judging film by the National Quarter Horse Association.

Wendell Trammell, project leader, and Cathey Horton, club leader, presented the program and discussed judging teams, rodeo teams and showing teams.

In addition the club discussed an Oct. 9-10 garage sale at the WT horse barn, and a roller skating party for November.

Those attending the meeting were Rusty Dinuson, Eddy Vance, Randall Whipple, David Orendorff, Donnie Trammell, Chris Trammell, Greg Maples, Jay Huneycutt, Ken Krackenberg, Lloyd Krackenberg, Genat Tracy Roberts, Alice Newsome, Wendy Sylei, Sharon Shaw, Caron Shaw and Connie Shaw.

Season tickets are priced at $45.00 for the 15 game home season. Individual game tickets will remain at $3.50 for reserved seats and $2.50 for general admission. WTSU students will be admitted free, but they must pick up their tickets at the athletic ticket office on campus by 4 p.m. on the day of a game. After that time, student tickets may be sold to the general public.

After 4 p.m., students may still pick up tickets at the coliseum, but they will not be guaranteed seating in the student section. At the coliseum, student seating will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Buffs open the regular season on Nov. 27 against Panhandle State. In addition to the always tough Valley schedule, the team will host Jacksonville, Texas-El Paso, North Texas State, and Samford in top non-conference games.

Prior to the regular season, West Texas State will host the Brazilian National team on Nov. 22 in the Buffalo Fieldhouse on the Canyon campus. That game will not be part of the season ticket plan.

Used books are needed for project

Used books are being collected by the Canyon Friends of the Library for a "book sale" to be held later in the fall as a fundraising effort.

Boxes for collecting books have presently been placed throughout the city at the two banks, the city library, WT bookstore, and the supermarkets, where used books may be contributed. Those who have large contributions of books may have them picked up by calling the city library at 655-9271.

ment that ranges in the $500,000 neighborhood.

When it will be installed is another question.

"It depends on how fast the EPA wants us to comply," he said. "No one has contacted me personally and said we're going to have to comply. We have not set any schedule. It's going to be a long drawn out process."

The first guidelines will go into effect in June 1977 and full compliance is expected by 1981.

The Texas Water Development Board executive director James M. Rose of Austin said that if the state constitutional amendment is approved to raise $400 million in water development funds, the funds would probably be used to help towns meet the water standards.

Rogers said he did not know how Canyon will finance the de-fluoridation.

county now charges each for collecting taxes for each entity.

He said the county now charges the hospital district 1 per cent of taxes assessed and collected and the school district 1/2 of 1 per cent of taxes collected. He noted that the Canyon Independent School District currently charges the City of Canyon five per cent to collect taxes for the city government.

A third recommendation was that commissioners establish a system to evaluate the information maintained and reported by each office-holder so that unit or item costs might in the future be determined.

Two other recommendations suggested commissioners pass two resolutions, one backing two pieces of legislation which will be presented the Texas legislature in January to hike fees of office of the county clerk, and the other urging representatives to hike the fees of office of each office-holder by a stipulated amount.

Commissioners took no action on either resolution and took no action on any of the other recommendations, pending an individual review of the report. The items are to be discussed again next Monday.

The court decided to enter into a joint purchasing arrangement with Amarillo in hope of saving money on county purchases.

Plans were made to purchase two new cars for the sheriff's department under this arrangement.

Judge Pond appointed Griffin as the county's representative to the Amarillo Board of City Development.

The court also agreed to pay $16 on the cost of an election school to be held jointly with Potter County and decided not to tint the windows of the courthouse annex in Amarillo.

of the committee's duties.

"We're all always interested with how to work with other institutions," he said Tuesday. "We will be looking at ways to work closely with all schools."

The committee has no idea of exploring a merger for WTSU with any other system, he said.

Shelton stressed that any consideration of a merger is still in preliminary stages.

most rain, he said.

Here in Canyon rainfall amounted to 1.32 inches. Most of that fell Monday when 1.13 inches was recorded.

The rain is sufficient now to benefit agriculture, Robinson said.

For farmers who have already planted wheat, the rain should be enough to get the crop started, Robinson said. Those who have waited to sow should have enough moisture to go ahead.

Robinson said the rain is economically very significant because the wheat market is so low now that farmers cannot afford to spend much money on irrigation.

Osborne had another concept

Western swing in history

By BEVERLY MCCARLEY

As Waylon Jennings sings, "Bob Wills is still the king." With a 560 recording repertory and 58 years of show business, Bob Wills created a new music Western Swing, according to Dr. Charles Townsend, author of notes on two album jackets.

Townsend said, "The snobs that looked down on him (Wills) are gone to their grave and taken their snobbery with them. Bob Wills and creative people live forever."

Wills' newest album "Bob Wills and His Texas Playboys In Concert" was released this year and Townsend says it is appropriate to release this recording in the bicentennial year. The album is "a composite of many of the various musics and styles that have developed during the 200 year history of the United States."

"It is appropriate during the Bicentennial of the United States to relate Bob Wills' Western Swing to the musical heritage of the American people," Townsend said in the album cover.

The album is a compilation of tapes of radio shows from the early sixties which contains music of the Bob Wills collection from the most basic folk tunes of the seventeenth century to modern big-band swing.

Bob Wills' music and style had several major influences and has influenced today's music greatly, according to Townsend. The blues and jazz became as significant in the development of his styles as the fiddle music of the frontier.

Wills did not use the material and stylistic ideas of just the more "respectable" jazz artists, he was influenced heavily by what was called "race music" in the twenties and thirties—music of the blacks, by the blacks, and for the blacks, according to Townsend.

Other influences on the Bob Wills style was tin pan alley, Broadway big swing band music, and rock and roll. Townsend said that Wills wrote all his music with one major purpose — to dance to.

"Years before most musicians, Bob had discovered the appeal of undiluted black music and style," Townsend wrote. Negro influence on his own music, style, and life goes back to his very early childhood.

"St. Louis Blues," one of the album cuts, depicts Wills at his "uninhibited best," according to Townsend. "Singing the twelve-bar blues as he learned it working with blacks in the cotton fields of Texas, hollering like he did at the ranch dances in West Texas, and joking with his musicians like the Negroes did when he was a child."

The Western Swing creator witnessed before his death in 1975 what Townsend terms "The Bob Wills Renaissance." His repertory and styles are currently being revitalized by artists ranging from Commander Cody (the Eastern Swing of Western Swing), Asleep at the Wheel, Willie Nelson, and Waylon Jennings to Richard Betts, Alvin Crow, Merle Haggard, and Red Steagall.

In recent years, according to Townsend, Western Swing was featured at the University of Chicago Folk Festival, and this past summer Bob Wills' Texas Playboys appeared in Washington, D.C. at the Smithsonian Institute Folklore Festival.

Townsend said that his interest in Bob Wills goes back many years. "As a child I sensed he was different," Townsend was in Colorado vacationing when he received the request from Hollywood to do the cover for Wills' latest album.

Mrs. Wills insisted that Columbia records have Dr. Townsend compile the notes. Townsend wrote his story while on the road. Townsend said he enjoys writing "popular culture" because "you know that thousands are going to read it."

The final thought in the album

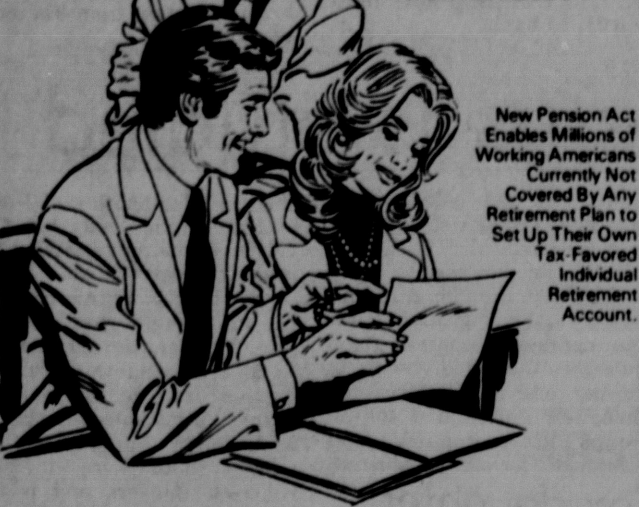

notes written by Townsend explains Wills' lasting popularity — "Bob Wills had the courage to revolt against formalism and tradition and break new musical ground."

Dr. Charles Townsend and Larry Scott display Bob Wills' album. Scott was given a grant by United Artists to travel around the country interviewing persons who helped with the album, "For the Last Time." He is with KFDI radio in Wichita, Kan.

Sue Hite Club of Canyon presented a special history bookshelf to the Canyon City Library this week as a segment of the club's bicentennial efforts. The bookshelf was accepted by Dr. Walter Shelly, president of the library board. Making the presentation, from left, were Mrs. Crews Henry, club historian and member of the bookshelf committee; Mrs. E. R. Reeves, overall bicentennial project chairman for the club; Mrs. Emmitt Smith, bookshelf project chairman; and Mrs. Larry Holman, club president.

Club donates bookshelf

As a part of their bicentennial efforts, the Sue Hite Club of Canyon this week presented Canyon City Library with a bookshelf to hold special books relating to area and national history.

The bookcase is of solid ranch oak featuring five shelves with the lower shelf being enclosed behind commode styled doors. The bookshelf is located to the right of the main entrance of the library.

Accepted by library board president, Dr. Walter Shelly, the bookcase was placed in the library early this week. Dr. Shelly, a long-time member of the library board, noted that "no segment of our community has done more for the benefit of the library than the women's clubs of the city."

Mrs. E. R. Reeves has served as the club's chairman for the overall bicentennial project committee. The bookcase was selected by a committee chaired by Mrs. Emmitt Smith which also included Mrs. E. E. Perkins and Mrs. Crews Henry.

Earlier this year, the Sue Hite Club sponsored an Heirloom Quilt Exhibit as its effort for the community Bicentennial Birthday of America. Some 75 handmade quilts and bedspreads were displayed at the occasion with Mrs. W. E. Miller as chairman.

The Sue Hite Club, which celebrated its own Golden Anniversary in 1975, has Mrs. Larry Holman as current president.

Wives hold canyon tour

The Grab Bag interest group of Faculty Wives Etc. arranged a geology and plant tour of Palo Duro Canyon for faculty families last Saturday afternoon.

Exhibits were reviewed at the new park Interpretive Center while Dr. George Asquith discussed the paleo geography of the 190 million year old region. At that time, a mountain range cut across the state of Texas and was part of a system of mountains that may have connected with Norway and Sweden before the continents drifted apart.

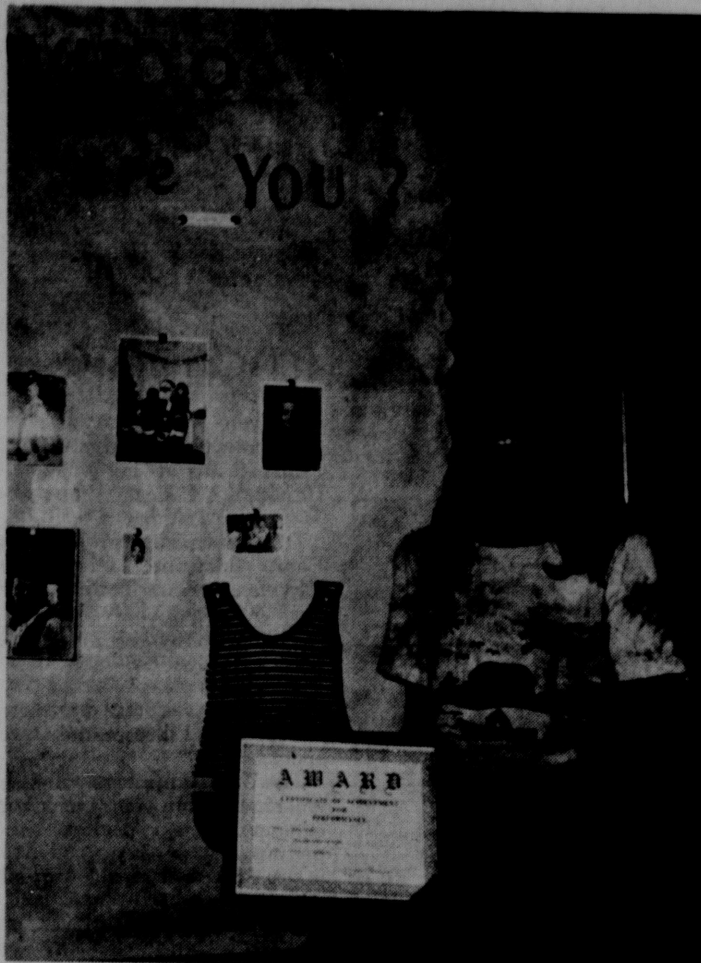

Dr. Gerald Schultz, who was responsible for getting together some of the materials and information included in various display cases at the Interpretive Center, told the group that fossil evidence collected from the canyon indicate a very different and considerably wetter climate existed here in the past.

WT, UT Arlington
to clash Saturday

West Texas State and U.T. Arlington, football teams which think that breaks happen only to bones, square off Saturday night in a non-conference game on Arlington's Cravens Field. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Each team comes into the game with just one win, but both coaches think that total could be more if some good things had happened to them earlier this season. West Texas State is 1-1 after a 21-17 loss at Southern Illinois last week, while UTA is 1-3, its only win a 21-10 decision over New Mexico State two weeks ago.

Last week, both teams had substantial leads in the fourth quarter only to lose in the final moments. WT led 17-7 over SIU with just over 10 minutes to go, and UTA led 20-7 over Northeast Louisiana at the same time. NLU won that one, 21-20.

This week, the Buffs shouldn't have any trouble preparing mentally for the Mavericks. UTA rolled to a 39-7 win last year in Kimbrough Stadium, a game which stands out as the low point of the WTSU season. The Buffaloes gave the ball away nine times (six fumbles, three interceptions) and the Mavericks rushed for 400 yards on the night.

"They gave us a sound whipping last year," Buff coach Gene Mayfield says, "and we have never really played well against U.T. Arlington since I've been here. They have a bunch of people back from last year, and it should be no problem knowing their personnel and what they like to do."

Both teams have their complete backfields back from a year ago. West Texas' wishbone is led by fullback Bo Robinson, the 205-pound sophomore who is averaging 107 yards per game rushing, and halfback Anthony Dogan, the Valley's Newcomer of the Year last year who is rushing for 63 yards per game.

For UTA, halfback Jimmy Bailey (66.5 yards per game) and fullback Derrick Jensen (66.3) are the big running stars. Like WT, UTA runs the wishbone.

On defense, the Buffaloes and Mavericks also use similar alignments. Linebacker Jeff Nunn and cornerback Tommy Mills are the big men in the WTSU 4-3 defense, while linebackers Willie Thomas and Lance Stephens have been making most of the stops for the UTA defense.

Saturday's game will not be played on UTA's regular home field, Arlington Stadium. The Mavericks share it with the American League's Texas Rangers, who will be finishing their home season this weekend. Instead, the WTSU-UTA game will be played at Cravens Field, a local high school facility that seats 8,000.

Most of those 8,000 seats are expected to be filled for the game, however. The game will be part of Band Night with both the WT and UTA bands, plus numerous Arlington area prep outfits, in attendance.

Following the game at Arlington, the Buffs end their three-week road-stint with the Houston Cougars, the current leaders of the Southwest Conference.

Soccer team wins!

The West Texas State University soccer team, led by I-mail Said's final goal, won their first game in two years of play over Eastern New Mexico 3-1 at Canyon last Saturday.

The game represents a landmark for the WT soccer club, which hopes to become a varsity sport one of these days.

It was the second time this season that they met ENMU, losing the first one 2-1.

"We played the first half lousy," said player-coach David Seright. "I think that we were just jittery because we had the chance to win our first game."

The Buffs got on the scoreboard first on a goal by Larry Kraus. The entire game was played tense and both teams had opportunities to score many times, but good play on the part of the goalies and missed shots kept the score down.

With 30 seconds showing on the clock, and the score deadlocked 1-1, Seright made a free kick to give WT a 2-1 advantage. As the clock wound down to five seconds several discrepancies materialized.

The visitors from New Mexico insisted there were at least five minutes remaining to be played. In order to avoid any bitter feelings Seright ordered five more minutes and still came out on top.

The Buffs' next contest will come from North Texas State Oct. 2 in Denton. Just five years ago North Texas was in West Texas' place, a club sport trying to obtain varsity status.

"We are going to have a tough time beating them because they are very tough," said Seright.

CHS cleans up
for homecoming

Canyon High School students will get the feel of the rake, lawnmower and trash bag today as they clean the CHS campus in preparation for Homecoming.

The littered appearance of school campuses caused some unfavorable comments at a recent school board meeting and one board member advocated assigning students in physical education classes to clean-up once a week. That idea was rejected.

CHS students will be dismissed Thursday as soon as each home room cleans its assigned area.

Believer's baptism by immersion is our practice although our open membership policy allows persons of other Christian persuasions to transfer into First Christian Church.

Members believe immersion was the New Testament practice and that it is the most adequate symbol of complete surrender and of the re-enactment of the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ who died for the remission of our sins.

Through repentance and confession of faith in Jesus Christ, followed by baptism, we are born to a newness of life.

Rodeo, roping, and art among activities

By MARY NEAL HENRY
HAPPY COWBOYS WON the team trophy at the Pampa Tri State High School Rodeo last week-end. Bobby Keeter won first place in bull riding, Eddie Joe Pearson won second in steer wrestling, J. T. Henry won third in bareback riding, Ronnie Howell won fifth in calf roping and Greg Carlile won sixth in calf roping. Congratulations!

WEATHER COOPERATED FOR the Seventh Annual Wesley-Sims Memorial Roping in which Arnold Felts of Oklahoma City won the average with a time of 68.76 seconds on four steers. He also won second in the first go-round for a total of $3,608 and a trophy saddle. That trophy saddle built by Stockman's Saddle Shop of Amarillo was a bicentennial red, white and blue. The padded seat was blue stitched with an eagle and liberty bell; the lacing was white and the stitching was red.

An arrow head, 1776-1976, and Wesley-Sims Memorial Roping was tooled into the skirts of the saddle. Truly, it was one of the most beautiful I've ever seen. Those saddles aren't just built to be pretty either. No steer will pull one apart.

Total prize money for the steer roping ran $7,120 plus the trophy saddle. Guy Allen of Santa Anna won second in the average; Mack Fortenberry of Adrian won third; and Rex Prather of Post won fourth.

Mack Fortenberry tied the fastest steer of the day in 12.54 seconds. That broke the record for the Happy arena.

First go-round winners were Butch Morgan of Colorado Springs with a time of 13.97; second was Arnold Felts with 14.92; third was Walter Arnold of Silverton with 15.14; and fourth was Bud Upton of San Angelo with a 15.77.

Second go-round winners were Mack Fortenberry with his 12.54; second was Lewis Kinkead of Tucuman with 15.65; third was

Jim Prather of Post with a 16.50; and fourth was Guy Allen of Santa Anna with a 16.97.

Third go-round winners were Charley Lynn of South Coffeyville, Oklahoma, with a time of 13.57 seconds; Buddy Cockrell of Pampa was second with 14.87; Walter Arnold was third with 15.75; and Kenny Call of Oklahoma City with 16.08 was fourth.

Marvin Cantrell of Nara Visa, New Mexico won the short go-round in 14.39 seconds and Bud Upton was second with 15.35 seconds.

Calf ropers roped for total prize money of $4,128 and a trophy buckle. Kenny Call of Oklahoma City won the average with a total time of 40.71 seconds on three calves. Terry Phillips of Iowa Park won second with a total time of 42.45. W. C. Sibley of Carlsbad won third with 43.36 seconds. Sam Brown of Adrian won fourth with 43.98 seconds on three.

First go-round winners were first, Terry Phillips with 10.04; second, Tutt Grammett of Portales with 10.42; third, Kenny Call with 12.80; fourth, Larry Cohorn of Las Cruces, with 12.28.

Terry Phillips won the second go-round, also, with 11.32; second was Junior Garrison of Duncan, Oklahoma, with 11.70; third was W. C. Sibley with 11.97 and fourth was Kenny Call with 12.86.

Sam Brown won the short go with 13.55 seconds. Kenny Call was second with 15.67.

Kenny Call took home $1,330 in prize money for the day and a trophy belt buckle. Terry Phillips was also a big winner with $1,272.

Janie Remier of Stinnett won the GRA barrel race with a time of 19.41 seconds. Patti Prather of Brownfield was second with 19.85. Diltvie Edmondson of McCauley won third with 19.91.

Pauline Wesley won the trip to the National Finals. Pauline won the trip a few years ago. She is the mother of the late Bowie Wesley. Can't think of anyone who deserves to win more.

THE ART SHOW had on exhibit beautiful art, paintings and bronze. Comparisons, financially, proved that it was successful. This year, over $1600 worth of art was sold. This is more than twice that sold of the previous year. And we intend to make that our goal next year — doubly so.

Happy artists who participated were Bob Hargrave, Mary Moudy, Zelma Selvidge, Mary Womack, Ollie Nichols, Frank Briscoe, and Jeff Whitman.

Other happy artists who hailed from other areas were Dave Brown of Granbury, Garland Weeks of Canyon, Justin Wells of Amarillo, Russell Brown of Amarillo, Steve Haley of Sayre, Stanley McDonough of Canyon, Paul Wiley of Lubbock, Mack White of Canyon, Jerry Teaff of Bula, and Kathryn Stephens of Tulsa.

I enjoyed getting to know Garland and Jayne Weeks. Garland does excellent work in bronze. He has a long horned cow and her calf in wax, that have not yet been cast, that are a delight to me.

Garland and Jayne, both, have such pleasant dispositions. They are really a joy to associate with. Jayne teaches horsemanship at WTSU. She would be an asset to any faculty.

Dave Brown and his wife are a very young couple from Granbury. In spite of his youth, Dave really has "it". He can draw those horses and cattle. Not every one can manage that and make them look right. Dave is one of the few members of the Working Cowboy Artists, a new organization of artists who are either cowboys or have been cowboys. They know how to make those correct details in a painting. When a cowboy looks at a painting and there is something wrong, it is immediately noticed. I don't mean just a flaw or a wrong stroke of the brush, I mean the tack or the setting, etc.

Justin Wells of Amarillo is a most pleasant and talented artist. His work is near perfect. At our show he exhibited quite a few sketches that were watercolored, so perfect they almost looked like prints. Justin has a portfolio coming out this next week that we got to view prematurely. It, too, is excellent work!

Russell Brown had another show last week-end also, but he was good enough to bring down a few paintings. We appreciate his cooperation. Russell has the Ticky Tacky Shop in Amarillo. Steve Haley is a comparatively new artist from Sayre, Oklahoma. He does good work and often adds a touch of humor to it.

Stanley McDonough brought down some of his bronze. Although he is better known as the game warden, Stanley does really good work. I like his road runner that he named "Fast Feathers."

Jerry Teaff of Bula has a different technique with acrylics. Some of his paintings are so smooth that they scarcely look as if they are painted on canvas. He does great work and has some beautiful colors in his paintings.

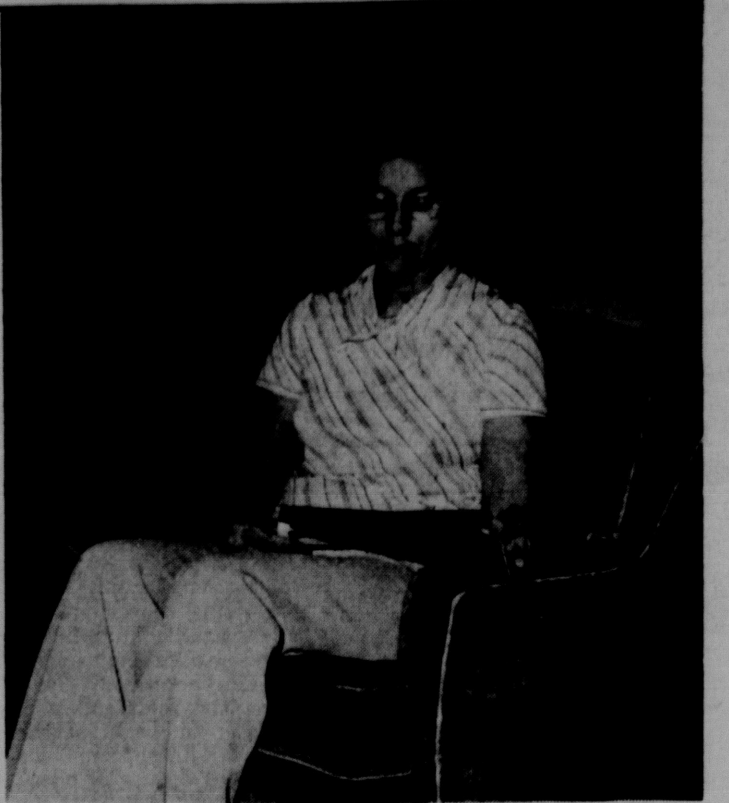

Paul Wiley, now of Levelland but soon to be a Lubbock resident, has exhibited with us all three years of art shows. Paul was a cowboy before he turned to art for a living and he now has showings throughout Texas and New Mexico. He really can paint or sculpt. Paul has donated one of his latest bronze pieces, "Something to Hang Onto", to Girlstown, USA. The small girl is mounting a horse and he is carefully watching and waiting for her to mount up. The piece sells for $1750 and all profits from each piece goes to Girlstown. Paul and Jan Wiley are also fine people.

Mack White, formerly of Happy, but a long time resident of Canyon, has begun producing some bronze pieces. He exhibited one of these along with his metal sculpture. We know how busy Mack is and really do appreciate his taking time to show his work at the Happy show.

We also appreciate the Happy Artists who participated. Local people especially appreciate getting to see what others in our community can do, but Happy has some really good artists.

A big thank you to all those (See HAPPY page 11)

Mrs. J. Edwin Low inspects a historic scroll naming an ancestor who was killed in the siege of the Alamo. The scroll, along with other mementoes and artifacts from the Low's mission work in Nigeria, will be seen during the October 10 home tour sponsored by University Study Club of Canyon.

Low's home on "tour"

The home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Low at 3302 Linda Lane in the eastern section of Canyon will be among homes open to visitors during the annual Harvest Home Tour to be held Oct. 10 by University Study Club of Canyon.

Tour hours will be 2-6 p.m. with local and area residents invited for guided tours of the four city homes. Tickets for the tour will be $1 per person and entitle the bearer to visit each home on tour that afternoon.

Tickets for the tour are presently available from USC members and will also be available at the door of each tour home on Oct. 10. Other homes on the tour, in addition to the Edwin Low home at 3302 Linda Lane, are the Elton Cox home at 1411 Creekmore, the Bill Piehl home at #25 Country Club Drive and the Jimmy Craig home, 10 miles south of the city on Highway 87 and two blocks west at Ralph Switch.

A "country kitchen" offering home baked goods, gift items and crafts will be open during the home tour at the Elton Cox home. The "kitchen" will be the second such effort sponsored by the University Study Club in conjunction with the tour of homes.

As tour guests arrive at the Low home, they will be greeted by a committee headed by Marilyn Johnson. Other members of the tour committee at the Low home will be Mary Jo Hales, Lynn Guy, Fern Bellah, Carol Harrell, Mary Alice Bond, Mary Ellen Garner, Jane Eller and Mildred Cannon.

Upon entering the Low home guests will be interested to note various artifacts and mementoes collected by the Low family during their 12 years of mission work in Nigeria, West Africa.

A southwestern influence is prevalent in art which accents the livingroom. The livingroom is framed by built-in bookshelves with a facing fireplace and extended hearth. An open-arch fronting the livingroom opens into the double study where built-in bookcases and storage space accommodate privacy for Dr. Low and his wife, Anita.

The three bedroom, two bath home, is graciously decorated with various art projects and needlecrafts done by Mrs. Low. In addition to large closets throughout the house, a massive central storage area is used for storage of completed paintings, card tables and other equipment and is set behind louvered doors in the dining area.

An open feeling in the dining room is acquired from the soft light flowing from the chandelier, as well as natural light which enters through the sliding glass doors. The dining room features a glass front built-in china display and the covered patio adjacent is designed for quiet entertaining. Framing the patio, itself, are abundant late summer flowers and the downspout beyond is used for vegetable gardening.

From the double car garage at the Low home, the back entry takes on a corridor styling which passes through the utility area. The utility room is also generous in cupboard storage and features a work area with storage for art supplies, sewing and other crafts of the family.

Continuing the corridor style, the kitchen is designed for "maximum efficiency with a minimum of effort" according to Mrs. Low. The kitchen features dark wood cabinetry complemented with harvest yellow countertops and is completed with a breakfast bar repeating the harvest yellow color scheme.

The Low family settled in Canyon on return from their mission work abroad and have raised three children here including two sons and a daughter.

Their eldest son, Jonathan, is now in Washington, D.C. where he is director for Renaissance House, a temporary care facility for teen-aged boys.

The Low's daughter, Martha, teaches English to international students at the University of Houston.

David, who recently married the former Ellen Du Vall, is a city traffic engineer in Macon, Georgia. His wife teaches EMR in the Macon Public Schools.

Lee services held

Funeral rites for Harry Lee, 72, of Amarillo were held at Schooler-Gordon Funeral Chapel with Dr. Joe Findley, retired minister, and Rev. Terry White of First Christian Church officiating.

Burial was at Dreamland Cemetery. Serving as pallbearers were Willie Weaver, Edwin Morrison, Gary Kraegshauser, Ray Joe Riley, Anthony Stanford and Hugh F. Greiner.

Mr. Lee died Friday at Olsen Manor Nursing Home in Amarillo. He was born Sept. 2, 1904 at Ralls, Indiana. He was married to the former Opal Scott in 1933 and had been a salesman with National Cash Register Company for 40 years when he retired in 1970. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

The family requests memorials to the American Heart Association or a favorite charity.

Survivors include his wife, Opal of Amarillo; sisters, Janice Penrod and Mrs. Gladys Darrow of Marion, Ind.; two sister-in-laws, Mrs. V. E. Dodson of Hereford and Mrs. D. R. Weaver of Canyon.

patrons! Believe it or not, most of them were local people and we are most appreciative of their support for the Wesley-Sims Scholarship Fund.

An extra big "Thank You" to Bob Hargrave for all his help! Bob is not only a talented artist, but a walking catalogue of information, a carpenter, janitor, decorator and most pleasant person with which to work.

Jim McManigal donated a picket fence for a background for our art show and we are most grateful. Course, Jim didn't know it until after it was done. That is just another reason that we appreciate him so very much. Thank you, Jim.

TEXAS CATTLE FEEDERS Association held a seminar last Wednesday for secretaries and feed lot managers. I attended the seminar to learn more about the industry and the problems of that segment of the industry in particular. The day could not have been better spent.

Gary Culp was master of ceremonies and handled the day most efficiently and capably. He and Shirley Gill Baker, later in the morning, explained the organization of Texas Cattle Feeders and the services provided for its members. Among those were weekly newsletters and up-to-the-minute market news, five days a week. They maintain a wait line for members use.

The morning began with Larry Milner of Southwestern Public Service. He spoke on time management. One of the points that impressed me was that Larry had listened to the New Testament on tape recordings every morning while he shaved. Several weeks or months were required to complete the tapes, but nevertheless he had "found the time."

Representatives of the Dale Carnegie courses were next with "Attitudes of Success." Many enlightening thoughts were presented . . . all exemplifying that positive attitude.

The afternoon was filled with accounting problems, new IBM equipment, telephone etiquette, and professionalism. A certified secretary, Jeanine Bewley, explained the new tests now being given secretaries for certification.

son tells me that her address is Box 469.

Hermion and Dudley McNeill rambled through. Then Evelyn and Rayford Shipman and Emil Ross stopped to chat. The Robert Adams were there that day. And Minnie Bible was touring the fair with a friend.

Willie Butler and I worked the Carcass Show while LaNelle Todd and Mrs. Mark Maynard worked the CowBelle Booth provided by Franklin Serum Company. That booth was in the bull barn.

HOMECOMING AT HAPPY High School was Friday. President Reed McDonald presided. I often do this column in the only time that I can find . . . late at night and in the middle of the night. At that time, I am most capable of making mistakes. I apologize to Reed and Joan McDonald, who have been presidents of the Happy Alumni for the past two years.

Diane Johnson, president of the Student Council, welcomed exes and students to Homecoming festivities. Diane announced that Brenda Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Parker, and Cody Grubb, son of Mrs. Leon Anderson, were crowned Flame Queen and King at the previous night's bonfire.

Reed McDonald added his welcome and introduced the officers. He introduced his wife, Joan; the vice presidents, Billie and Wayne Pearson; and Secretary-Treasurer, Maurine Allison.

Reed then introduced the Bi District Champions of 1956. Those present were Gene Shipman and Vincent Venhaus of Happy, Orrell Vise and Billy Penn of Amarillo and Wayne Cole of Rancie, Arizona.

Others on that team were Gary Cayword, Richard Bowe, Gary and Ray Poage, Jimmy Pearson, Jackie Paul Driskill, Gary Don Bowe, Don Parker, Fred Cole, Dub Oler, Bill Frost, Don Ed Middleton, Glenn Waters, Tommy Ferguson, Bill Tiley, Vernon Davis, Bowie Wesley and managers, A. G. House, Leland McDowell, Johnny Lemmons, and Jimmy Cox.

Coach at the time was Dempsey Alexander, now of Hereford. He arrived in time to give an inspirational talk. Gary Poage, of that team, was named High School All American.

Vilo Danner was present for the class of 1936. Linda McDonald for class of 1956. Gary Culp for class of 1966, and Cathy Parker, Mike Todd, Valerie Tipps, Connie Hand, Shawn Walters, and several of the class of 1976.

Joe Magness of Farwell and Jack Magness of Edinburg were present to represent the Golden Anniversary Class of 1926. Jack Magness presented to Happy High his Gold letter sweater with the Black 'H' on the front and the Happy Jack emblem on the sleeve and the money with which to have it renovated and displayed. Maureen Allison received the sweater for Happy.

Representing the twenty fifth silver anniversary class were Reed and Joan McDonald, Billie Pearson, Don Magness, Dorothy Sims Morton, Shirley Fuls Neff, Nadine Lyles (class sponsor), Mildred Dunn Miller and Tom Henry.

Ex-teachers introduced were Nadine Lyles, 1951; Bill Mason of Plainview, 1917 and 1918; Ora Mary Sims, 1944-46; and Camillia Greenfield of (several years) to 1964.

Jack Magness was the one traveling the longest distance. He is from Edinburg and Wayne Cole was from Arizona.

Mrs. John Irbeck was the one present who has sent the most children to the Happy schools.

Eldiest in attendance were Bertie Culp and Mrs. John Irbeck.

Four generations present were Sara Gurley, Ora Mary Sims, Sara Tiley and Jim and Laura Tiley. The Hollands are another four generation family in our community.

There are at least 45 third generation children attending Happy schools. Seventeen children named Sims have attended Happy schools and seven of these are in school now.

A short memorial was held for those who had passed away during the current year. These included Grace White, Clark Neff, Viola Buchanan, Carol "Hap" Hancock, Ross Duff, Billy S. McClure, Speck Aikman, Elois Markham, Lester Know, George Uselding, Buck McCarley, Genevieve Reed, Shirley Coille, Ralph Walter Stubblefield, and about seven others. (I'll catch up next week).

New officers elected were President, Billie and Wayne Pearson; Vice presidents, Lawana and Buddy Selvidge; and Secretary-Treasurer, Maurine Allison.

Shannon Wilhelm introduced the three candidates for Homecoming queen. Diane Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Johnson, was escorted by Guy Walt Via. Susan SoRelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior SoRelle, was escorted by Eddie Joe Pearson. Bonnie Briscoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Briscoe, was escorted by Cody Grubb.

J. T. Henry revealed the winner by crowning Bonnie Briscoe with a rhinestone tiara. He also presented her with a bouquet of flowers accompanied by a kiss. Then J. T. presented each of the runners-up a mum.

During the pep rally led by head cheerleader, Lisa Payne, pep talks were given by Eddie Joe Pearson, a captain, and head coach Cleve Vessels.

Coach Vessels introduced the Happy Football Team of 1976-77. Each was introduced, escorted across the stage, and presented an apple by the cheerleaders.

Happy Cowboys this season are J. T. Henry, Cody Grubb, Eddie Joe Pearson, Guy Walt Via, Russell Boman, Stanley Dietz, Jay McCarley, Ronnie McDonald, Sammy Moore, Tim Moudy, Neal Odom, Tim Parker, Jim Bob Sims, Leslie Weavers, Corrin Freeman, Doug Sims, Vincent Venhaus, Jimmy Williams, Raphe Shipman, Richard McKelvey, Tommy Patisilo, Jim Scott, Dan Pulsipher, and managers, Mike Fellers and Tracy Hamblen.

The pep rally closed with the school song.

HAPPY COWBOYS LOST the game that night 14 to 30 to Lazbuddie. The game began with a bang when Sammy Moore run the opening kick-off back for a touchdown. Eddie Joe Pearson made the later touchdown. But repeated fumbles lost the game for the Cowboys.

A new gate to the Cowboy Corral is begun. The iron work is black with gold letters, very impressive. Bricks will complete the gate. If you care to buy a brick for the gate to the football field, see a member of the student council. (Nobody told me what one cost).

Wranglers traveled to Lazbuddie on Thursday to play and dropped that game also.

WINFIELD MILLER, AUTHOR of the "The Happy Cooker" and J. W. (Bill) Mason of Plainview, author of the "You Can Be Happy Though Retired" exchanged books at the Happy Homecoming. Bill Mason was a teacher at Happy in 1916 and 1917 and again in 1917-18.

He taught the twins, Winfield and Willard Miller, spelling. Winfield made a score of 95.5 and beat Willard's 95.4. So, Winfield won the medal for the spelling and left it on his tie. His Mom later burned the medal or threw it away when she discarded several old ties.

Viola Buchanan taught here

while Mr. Mason was principal at Happy.

ARCH JOHNSON WAS taken to Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon very early Sunday morning with an apparent heart attack, although the family is not sure that is what the condition was.

KAYE LYNN STUBBLEFIELD was taken to the hospital on Monday afternoon. Kaye has had bronchitis and had a reaction to some of the medicine that she was taking. Kaye was ill enough to require glucose.

Ralph Huseman remains in Veterans' Hospital. Remember these!

RAIN WAS GENERAL in the area. Heavy hail damaged crops just south and southwest of Wayside. In some fields, enough grain was beat out of maize heads to fill turn rows and was sufficient to turn wheat black. See ya, Mary Neal.

Crafts workshop

Five areas of "creative crafts" will be offered in a no-cost workshop for all interested local residents today.

The crafts workshop is being sponsored by the Randall County Home Demonstration Council and will be held at the Farm Bureau Building. The workshop is set for 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. and participants may come-and-go. Those planning to spend the full day may provide their own sack lunch for the noontime break.

Crafts to be demonstrated for the 1976 workshop include rugmaking with various stitches to be shown by Bynum Morrison of Dan's Fifth Avenue in Canyon; rock-art craft projects to be shown and illustrated by Mrs. Edward (Francis) Flaherty; liquid embroidery to be demonstrated by Mrs. John (Lucille) Robinson; macrame hangings to be demonstrated by Mrs. John McNeill; and bread dough artistry to be given by Mrs. Paul (Dorothy) Corona of Amarillo.

Workshop participants may bring their own jute and other supplies and create projects under guidance of the workshop leaders.

Rites held for Loudder

Funeral services for Lucy Jo Loudder, 60 were held Wednesday at 3 p.m. in Schooler-Gordon Funeral Chapel at Canyon with Rev. Hubert Thomson, retired Methodist minister, officiating.

Interment was in Memory Garden Cemetery, Amarillo. Serving as pallbearers were Gene Morrison, James M. White, Joe D. White, Bill Thomas, Jim Thomas and Richard Brown.

Born February 28, 1916 at Gunsight, Texas, Miss Loudder came to Canyon in 1927 from Plainview and attended Canyon public schools and West Texas State University. She was a member of First United Methodist Church of Canyon and lived at 1820 2nd Avenue, Canyon. She died Monday at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon. Survivors include a brother, Dick Loudder of Canyon; four sisters, Mrs. Doris Lynn Chollar of Fort Worth, Mrs. Jessie L. Steen of Amarillo, Mrs. Lela Harding of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Eleanor Baker of Canyon. The family requests memorial gifts to the Arthritis Foundation.

Fair was fun

BY FARRIS ANN MORRISON
A MIRACLE OCCURRED last Tuesday. Cherry Winters, Marion Marra, and Mrs. Dodson took the afternoon Kindergarten to the Fair, and not one child had to go to the bathroom! (My mother said, "How long did they stay? Three minutes!")

I know my two are in-veterate rest-room explorers. No matter where we go, they check out the facilities first (and then again and again).

Seriously, back to the fair: the kids saw all the available animals, had a snowcone, and received a balloon. Cherry said the kids behaved perfectly and had a wonderful time.

GENE HOWE is preparing for a deluge of student teachers on Oct. 25. Thursday the young ladies observed for the day with their supervising teachers.

General purposes for this day are to get acquainted with the personnel, schedule, textbooks and programs offered; also to select a unit to teach and visit with the supervising teacher.

Those taking part will be: Brenda Brownlee under Mrs. Taylor, Oralia Cervantes (Mrs. Woodward), Sandra Christian (Mrs. McGill), Nancy Drake (Mrs. Niemeier and Miss Layman), Linda Pike (Mrs. Langen), Consuela Flores (Miss Layman and Mrs. Niemeier), Gayle Harvey (Mrs. Harp and Mrs. Tillinghast), Alycia Lambert (Mrs. Stevens), Celia McAdams (Mrs. Ramakers), Jana Minyard (Mrs. Shoemaker), Marsha Thomas (Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Harp), Pamela Vestal (Mrs. Trew), and Judy Willis (Mrs. Phillips).

Julie Hipp has been doing a practicum (15 hours prior to student teaching) under Jerri Langen. Julia is from Kress and hopes to teach retarded children. She will do her student teaching next fall.

WE HAVE HAD lots of mommas working at school making game boards for the first grade teachers. They never had this stuff when I was in school, and I think it's great.

Vondene McGregor gave us the ideas and got us started. The kids should really have some terrific learning experiences.

FIRST AND SECOND grade girls won their soccer game against South Georgia 3-2. Kelly Bulla and Cassie Meier made our scores.

The fourth grade boys beat Avondale 26-0. Lynn Vanlandingham and Mark White were our scorers. J. T. Jolley and T. C. Newkirk coach the third grade boys in soccer. The boys have played four games, lost three but won the game against Western Plateau. All but one of the games have been very close.

Boys on the team are Scott Stewart, Tod Wilcox, Rob Bulla, Greg Cates, Ernest Chedester, Shay Bowling, Ronnie Williams, Donnie Myers, Hal Simpson, Michael James, Jimmy McMasters, Scott Boyd, Scott Newkirk, Tod Jolley, Bud Vance, Tony Warren, Trent Rosenbaum, Randy Stevens and Ronnie Stevens.

THURSDAY WAS PACK Meeting, a miniature Olympics. All of Pack 130 participated, and the following boys won gold, silver, and bronze medals (in that order): Eight year old division Rob Bulla, Jay Newkirk, Shane Palmer; nine year olds Dub Austin, Delbert Hollis, Lynn Vanlandingham; ten year olds Chris Knight, Mark White, and Don Meier.

The gold medal winners will go on to participate in an area meet. Congratulations!

HALF OF OUR Open House was held Monday. Parents attended a meeting, then visited in the classrooms. Mrs. Miller prepared her classroom by having each student make a paper mache replica of themselves complete with clothes and life-sized. The dolls sat at the desks "studying."

Refreshments were served — each PTA officer provided cookies, 48 dozen in all! Darlene Plank, our hospitality chairman did a great job. All officers were introduced as well as fourth through sixth grade teachers, special education teachers, and staff.

Barbara Wood presented our budget and of especial interest to Miss Jokerst in campout for summer

Laura Jokerst of Canyon was chosen this past summer by the Amarillo Girl Scout Council to attend one of the Wider Opportunities programs sponsored by other Councils.

She took part in "Saddle Straddle" in National Center West, Ten Sleep, Wyo.

She and the seven other Panhandle Scouts who attended the summer programs will be available to relate their experiences to other troops.

all of us is the PTA contribution to Gene Howe for this year: $1,313.50. Tell that to those who think PTA only drinks coffee and gossip! We have a certificate of deposit for $1,000 which is earmarked for our blacktop.

The school board has put this matter on its agenda for October, so we should see results soon. There's lots more that PTA has done and does do; PTA is you and you have done a really good job.

CONNIE HORNSBY HAS the chicken pox. Hope she feels better soon, but more I hope she hasn't started something!

REMEMBER NO SCHOOL October 4, and Kindergarten through third Open House, 7 P.M., Oct. 11. See you there.

School's out

Students will get a holiday Monday while teachers take an in-service training session.

All Canyon Independent School District schools will be open for students Tuesday.

Band Parents serving spaghetti supper

Canyon Band Parents will be sponsoring their annual spaghetti supper Friday evening, October 1, preceding the Canyon High School homecoming.

To be served in the high school cafeteria, serving will begin at 5 p.m. and residents may purchase tickets at a cost of $2.50 for adults, $2 for junior high and high school or $1.50 for elementary and pre-school.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or from high school and junior high school band students according to J. W. King, band director. Serving will continue until 7 p.m.

Proceeds from the annual project benefit Rex Reeves and Gene Howe Elementary Schools, Canyon Junior High School and Canyon High School band programs which are presently not covered in the regular school budget.

Funds annually go toward the end of school party for the band students, to purchase additional stage band equipment and other equipment as needed by the band, to furnish, sound and color film for the marching band and for support of band trips on alternate years.

Court nod on fire pact, maybe

Randall County commissioners Monday balked on a $14,000 fire contract with the city of Amarillo, approved another contract, rescinded it and then approved on a temporary basis the one they had refused.

Jerry McGurie, Amarillo assistant city manager, told county officials that the cost per fire last year to the city was $1,040 on 2,544 calls and that the Amarillo department had answered 14 calls in rural Randall County.

He said the $14,560 figure presented to the county was reckoned in this manner.

Commissioners Dee Griffin and John Fulgenzi, both from South Amarillo, voted for a motion to approve the contract. Commissioners Jim Fletcher and Paul Lindsey voted against the measure and Judge Woody Pond cast a negative tie breaker.

Then there was a period of agonizing. Griffin worried that fire protection would run out with the existing contract Oct. 1. That pact was signed for $10,000.

This, he said, would leave rural areas in the north part of Randall County, including industrial sites, with little or no fire protection. "This might cause us to lose industry which might be planning to locate here," he went on, "and we need industry."

Lindsey offered a resolution to sign for $12,000. It carried. There was more agonizing.

"One big industry coming in could pay for that fire contract for the next 10 years," Griffin reasoned. He said the contract should be approved with stipulation that Amarillo notify the county next year three months early on what a new contract would cost.

"They gave us that figure about three months ago and nobody objected," declared the court's administrative assistant, Carroll Wilson.

"Well we could go ahead and sign their contract and then talk to them," said Lindsey. "We could cancel it in 30 days anyway."

Lindsey's earlier motion was rescinded and the court voted to sign the contract offered by the city of Amarillo with the reservation stipulated by Commissioner Lindsey.

Commissioners approved an amendment to revise their 1976-77 fiscal year budget just three days before the new budget year begins.

The amendment, prepared for commissioners by county auditor Bill Tirey and Wilson, calls for use of an anticipated 1976 year-end surplus of nearly $300,000 in the budget for the upcoming fiscal year.

Wilson and Tirey estimated the county coffers would have a surplus of about $187,000 at the close of the 1976-77 fiscal year in September 1977.

Revenues for the year, according to the amendment, will be $2,277,000 and expenditures will be $2,380,000 for a projected year-end deficit of $102,000.

However, the amendment also projects a surplus from the current fiscal year and fiscal year 1975 of $290,000 which will not only offset the anticipated $102,000 deficit, but which will also leave an anticipated surplus of about $187,000 at the close of the year in 1977, Wilson and Tirey said.

A major portion of the anticipated deficit, Wilson said, is due to an underestimated cost put into the original budget for paving two roads north of Canyon—Sundown Lane East of the Canyon Expressway, and a road connecting Spur 48 with Hunsley Road north of West Texas State University. Commissioners had originally estimated cost of paving at $60,000, but revised that estimate after the original budget was adopted to $120,000.

In other business, commissioners reviewed an eight-page report from Wilson concerning the fees of office charged by several county office-holders under state law.

The report noted difficulty in obtaining true figures to use in determining unit or item cost estimates to help estimate whether the fees being charged in specific offices are equitable, Wilson said.

He noted that reports of the various office-holders do not allow a cost break-out so item-cost versus fee income can be determined.

Along with the report, Wilson presented five recommendations based on his research.

One recommendation was that commissioners meet with district judges involved with the administration of the Potter County Adult Probation Department to discuss the legality of the current fee return structure.

Wilson told commissioners the probation department is now prorating office costs and expenses to Randall County for payment based on 1970 population figures. But, he said, the department is returning fees to the county based only on the number of Randall County probationers who pay fees into the department.

Wilson's report cited a view by Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod that the law, in referring to the return of monies to counties from probation departments, stipulates a pro-rata system be used with population the standard.

Wilson also recommended the commissioners meet with representatives of the Bushland School District and the South Randall County Hospital District to discuss the possibility of hiking the commission the

Presidential house plans get bigger, more expensive

An amazed Dr. Lloyd Watkins watched Monday while regents rejected the plans for a proposed university president's residence to ask for something grander.

The architectural firm of Hucker and Parge first presented floor plans for a house totaling about 3,300 square feet and an estimated construction cost of $22 a square foot.

Regents questioning the amount of space for entertaining in the proposed home also began to question the suitability.

The architect replied that the home he had designed was an attempt to get the most design for the $100,000 budget he was told to work with.

"It will not give you the type of residence you will be proud of," he said.

He suggested adding another 1,000 square feet to a design and planning for a construction cost of $40-$45 a square foot.

"We should not be afraid to spend more than $100,000," one regent said.

The $100,000 price tag was set because, regents said, expenditures over that amount must be approved by the Coordinating Board.

Called on to comment, Dr. Watkins said, "I was hoping someone would ask for my comments. This discussion has taken a turn of events that I had not anticipated. It was never my intent to do more than the maximum $100,000."

"What I want to make known,

whatever you do, that this is not a house for me and my family. It's for the president of the university, no matter who that is."

"I've never acquiesced to anything beyond the $100,000 maximum."

Watkins' present home has 3,200 square feet. This was adequate to entertain groups up to about 50 people, he said.

The regents decided to discuss the official residence again at the December meeting. The board approved a bid from Wiley Hicks, Jr. for construction of a utility tunnel for the university. Hicks' bid of $201,093 as a base and $135,843 and $14,866 for alternates was low among the five contractors.

In addition, the board acted on a number of routine, housekeeping items.

Regents support sports status-quo

West Texas State University board of regents scattered praise and support for both university president Dr. Lloyd Watkins and athletic director Gene Mayfield following an executive session included in the regents' fall meeting Monday.

After the brief private session, the chairman Jack Shelton read this statement:

"The board has evaluated the function and utilization of the position of assistant to the president for intercollegiate athletics and has determined, based on the experience of the past several months and the recommendation of President Watkins, that the position has benefited the administration of this department and has assisted in carrying out the policy of the board, a policy strongly supported by President Watkins, of maintaining a broad-based and competitive program of intercollegiate athletics; accordingly, the position of assistant to the president for intercollegiate athletics will be retained."

"We are pleased to report that the internal operations and personnel of the athletic department have been reviewed by the board and we fully support the athletic director in the fulfillment of his program and will work to further its operation."

"In looking forward to the 1977-78 year, and the future financial requirements, of intercollegiate athletics I would like to appoint a regent's committee composed of regents Osborne, Curry and myself (Shelton) to meet with appropriate officers and directors of the Buffalo Club to initiate planning for securing future contributions and funding to intercollegiate athletics."

"Finally, the board would like to indicate its approval and strong support of the present university administration."

The contract for basketball coach Ron Ekker was discussed briefly in the meeting, Shelton said.

Criticism had been leveled recently at Watkins, Ekker and the board by former regent Boone Pickens, who said Ekker was circumventing athletic director Mayfield by going directly to Watkins for decisions.

Pickens had also criticized Watkins for poor leadership.

Water up-grade to be costly

City officials expect to spend eventually more than $500,000 to meet federal Safe Drinking Water Act standards, but, for now, they hope to get a variance from the regulations approved.

Canyon's water supply was named along with 21 others in the area as not meeting federal water standards.

The fluoride level is much too high, according to the standards. City water contains 3.1 milligrams per liter of fluoride compared to the maximum of 1.5 parts.

"We've looked at the situation and at all the possible ways to reduce the level," water supervisor Robert Rogers said Tuesday.

The best way will probably be to install de-fluoridation equipment.

A fumble teaches some boys an important lifelong lesson — for other boys a fumble is a lifelong heartbreak.

WT co-op to be eyed

Houston lawyer Dee Osborne was appointed to head a regents' committee to study affiliating West Texas State University with some other university system.

The assigned topic, with broad limits, includes everything from forming a west Texas system to merely looking at ways to cooperate with other universities.

Board of regents chairman, Jack Shelton said Monday after the regents held their fall meeting that the committee would investigate affiliating the university with the University of Texas system.

Or, he said, they might explore forming a system with other universities in the west part of the state. This union, if accomplished, would probably include Texas

Strain suit near

The Texas Civil Liberties Union will file suit in federal district court in Amarillo soon on behalf of Canyon city financial officer Marguerite Strain.

Mrs. Strain is contending that the retirement system of the city, through the Texas Municipal Retirement system, discriminates against women.

Women must work three years longer than men to get equal benefits, she says.

Mrs. Strain began the suit several years ago when she filed a complaint with the Office of Equal Opportunity in the Justice Department.

A federal civil rights attorney came from Washington, DC to interview Mrs. Strain and collect data on the complaint. However, the Justice Department never acted in the case and in August, Mrs. Strain asked for and received permission to proceed on her own.

She contacted the TCLU in Austin about a month ago to ask if the civil liberties group would take the case. The group had offered a year ago to take her case to court with no expense to her. TCLU is a chapter of the national American Civil Liberties Union.

Wednesday, TCLU director John Duncan said that the suit will be filed before the 90 day deadline in November.

In the petition, the TCLU will ask that the municipal retirement system be declared unconstitutional on the grounds that it discriminates against women.

The suit is expected to attract wide attention because the requirement that women must work longer than men for equal benefits is common in retirement systems, Justice Department lawyer Squire Padgett predicted.

"The insurance companies will have all their big guns lined up against her," he said when the Justice Department dropped the case.

Duncan said the TCLU will probably not seek damages but will ask that equal benefits be paid now and in the future.

Mrs. Strain said she was extremely pleased that TCLU accepted her case.

"Even though I'm too old to

Bonfire

The bonfire wood was stacked Saturday by hard-working Canyon High sophomores. The blaze will be lighted tonight in a pre-game Homecoming pep rally.

Homecoming gets going

Canyon High School is in the process of getting homecoming underway. Activities are scheduled throughout the week in preparation for the annual event.

Friday, prior to the game with the Plainview Bulldogs, the 1976 homecoming queen will be crowned. Four senior girls have been nominated for the title.

Susan Bonifield, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dyer Bonifield, is a third year cheerleader for CHS. She is home room representative in Student Council and member of FTA. She is currently secretary of Choral.

Jill Burton is the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burton. She is active in FTA, FHA, Choral and is senior class representative in Student Council.

cil. Jill is a cheerleader for the Eagles this year.

Darlene Hanes, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hanes. Darlene was elected Junior class favorite last year. She is president of the Business Club, treasurer of Student Council, treasurer of choir and a member of the show choir.

Barbara Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Oliver, has served for three years as student council representative. She is in her second year as a member of the annual staff. Barbara has also been in honor society for two years. In the public realm of activities, she is president of Les Amies Juniorette Club and treasurer for Canyon Federated Council for Women's Clubs.

School activities leading up to the game included a bonfire which will be held south of the high school Thursday night. Special days for homecoming week included sock day on Tuesday, color days on Wednesday, and Friday will be dress-up day.

Band parents will sponsor a spaghetti supper Friday night from 5 to 7 in the CHS cafeteria.

Following the game, a dance will be held in the school commons featuring "Armageddon."

Inch — plus of rain falls

Randall County escaped most of the hail that accompanied the rain here over a four day period.

County farm agent Bob Robinson said the rainfall varied throughout the area, ranging from three-quarters of an inch to two inches. The northwest portion of the county received the

Rite bans boys

Does the specific exclusion of boys as contestants for Canyon High's homecoming queen violate federal regulations barring sexual discrimination?

CHS principal John Sommer says he doesn't care if it does and, W. V. McAlpin CISD administrative assistant who has been in charge of surveying school practices for discrimination, says he doesn't know.

Asked about the exclusion of males from the queen elections this week at the high school, Sommer said, "If it did, (violate laws) it wouldn't bother me a bit. It has never occurred to me."

"Irregardless, it would have my blessing," he said. "Boys normally are not thought of as queens."

A homecoming king contest would draw his approval, Sommer said.

Reminded that numerous colleges and universities have elected male students as homecoming queens, Sommer snapped, "We're not a university."

McAlpin said he would have to ask for a specific ruling from Health, Education and Welfare before he would know if sexual discrimination laws were being violated.

"I don't know if this comes under the heading of the father-son, mother-daughter deal or not," he said. Earlier this year, President Gerald Ford stepped in to stop HEW from ruling that father-son school activities were discriminatory.

"I don't think you can ask specifically for male or females," he said.

Because the honor is an elected one run by the students, McAlpin said the rules may be different.

"If it was the school giving the honor, I don't think we could specify male or female," he said.

The next time I'm around some of those people (from HEW) I'll ask."

Wilson to return

Carroll Wilson has resigned as administrative assistant to Randall County commissioners' court after a two-month stint in that post and is returning to The Canyon News as associate publisher.

Wilson was managing editor of The News until he took the administrative job with the county in August.

In his new post as associate publisher, Wilson will participate in ownership.

As a college student, he came to The News in 1968 as a reporter and continued in that capacity until he was called into the armed forces in 1970. He served as a commissioned officer.

Returning to The News two years later, he assumed the role of managing editor, a position he held until Aug. 1.

Publisher Troy Martin announced the realignment of management of the 79-year-old newspaper Wednesday.

"I think it is a great thing for the newspaper and the community," declared Martin. "During the two months he has been away, we at the newspaper found out how much we miss Carroll and I think maybe Carroll learned how much he missed being at the newspaper."

The publisher said Wilson will play a prominent role in management.

Martin said he will give more of his personal effort to management of Staked Plains Press, a publishing operation which is a part of The News.

Laurie Telfair will remain as news editor and will contribute to the Sunday editorial pages.

"Mrs. Telfair is an experienced and knowledgeable newspaperwoman and we are fortunate to have her on our staff," Martin declared.

Steady there

Toothpick sculpture provided activity during the rainy spell. Jim Bewley and Emily Baker concentrate on their projects in Miss McCarthy's 4th grade class.

A proper launching of a new apartment development is given by Larry Hooper, Harold Root, Wayne Wirt, Arlen Frampton and Larry Wall.

New apartments under construction

A $300,000 apartment complex is under construction now at 207 28th Street next to Palo Duro

Hospital. The 20 studio type apartments will feature covered parking, dishwasher, garbage disposal and all-electric heating and air conditioning. The two-bedroom furnished apartments will be two story, owners Larry Hooper and Wayne Wirt said.

Harold Root Construction is building the units and financing is being arranged by First National Bank in the interim and Imperial Savings Association of Amarillo for long term.

The apartment complex is named "The Pepper Tree."

Layman's weekend to begin

A 42-hour lay renewal weekend is planned by Calvary Baptist Church for the coming weekend, Oct. 1-3, with James McManus of Frederick, Oklahoma as coordinator.

The week-end of activities will include about 35 visiting teams for the revival. The team members will be housed for the week-end at homes of various church members.

The revival week-end will include a special service Friday evening, as well as daytime and evening services on Saturday. The regular Sunday worship hours will be observed Oct. 3 with each church member and other interested individuals welcome to participate.

According to figures projected by the West Texas State University director of institutional research, West Texas state's enrollment will remain constant or increase slightly over the next five years.

"I believe WT's enrollment will fluctuate between 6,600 and 6,800," said Delton Moore, a WT graduate who has worked for the National Center for Education Statistics in Washington, D. C.

Moore made his projections using yearly counts of state high school graduates and WT's student retention ratios from grade to grade.

Projections made by the Texas Education Agency and the US

Department of Health, Education and Welfare parallel this trend, revealing that the number of high school seniors will increase only slightly until the early 1980's, after which the numbers will begin to drop.

"That will be the end of the baby boom kids that came after World War II," he said.

The declining public school populations in the Texas Panhandle will also play a significant role in the enrollment at WT, which draws approximately 75 percent of its students from this region.

"Approximately 25 percent of our beginning freshmen come from the Panhandle's high school graduating seniors," Moore said. WT's number of freshmen has been declining since 1970.

Other important factors affecting enrollment have been the draft and the availability of veteran's benefits for education.

WT's enrollment peaked with the Viet Nam War, and in 1969 and 1970 reached all-time highs of 7,935 and 7,905. As the draft was phased out, the enrollment dropped to levels established before the escalation of the war.

After a drop to 6,574 in 1972, WT's enrollment climbed slowly to last year's figure of 6,701.

This semester it met with yet another military obstacle — the expiration of some veterans' eligibility for benefits. Those who were in active service before June 1966 had their benefits terminated on June 1, 1976, and this semester's veteran enrollment dropped 200 from last year's count.

Moore's projections that WT's enrollment will stabilize are based on trends established in traditional student categories.

If WT is able to increase its appeal to non-traditional students, or to add new programs that draw another segment of the student population, then there is a chance that enrollment might increase slightly, according to Moore.

Bowlers begin season

The WTSU bowling team traveled to New Mexico State University last weekend for their first conference tournament. The women's team returned with first place and the men placed second.

Regina Hillier of WT scored the highest series total for the meet with 893 points. Debbie Dawley totaled second highest series with 886 points, she also scored the highest game with 209.

The girls' team, which also included Elizabeth Comerford, Cindy Kelley and Vanessa Word, put WTSU in first place in conference standings with a 44.98 point total. NMSU is in second place standings with 41.10 points.

Steve Dunagan lead the WT men's team with a 927 point series with Larry Robard in second with 922 points. High game score for the meet was taken by Lynn Hillier with 258.

Gary Sanders and David Evans also bowled on the men's team.

Volleyball women play in TWU meet

West Texas State's women's volleyball team will be in Lubbock Tuesday evening to face Abilene Christian and McMurray before traveling to Denton over the weekend to compete in the Texas Women's University Tournament which begins on Friday.

WT had troubles last week-end when they competed in a round-robin tournament in Lubbock. After getting by Angelo St. 15-12, 15-10, the Buffs dropped three straight. Abilene Christian defeated WT 15-10, 14-12, then Texas Tech squeezed by 15-12, 15-8. The Buffs then fell to New Mexico St. 10-15, 15-6, 15-6.

The Buffs, who are now 4-6, are experiencing defensive problems along with others. Coach Alma Ramsey says that another problem might be the pressure. "We look good at times, but we're having problems playing under pressure," said Ramsey. "It just seems like when we make mistakes, we lose six points before we recover."

Cyclethon fundraiser is planned

The annual "cyclethon" fund-raising effort for the Randall County Unit of the American Heart Association has been set for Oct. 16.

Prizes will be awarded in each of the divisions based on total contributions. The cyclethon is set to begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m.

Categories for the cyclethon this year will include a pre-school section for tricycle riders and two-wheelers to be staged on the parking lot of First National Bank. Other categories will include grades 1-6, grades 7-9, high school and college, and adults.

Each cyclethon participant must complete application blanks which are being distributed throughout the public schools and university this week.

TWO-THREE OR NOT TWO-THREE, THAT IS THE QUESTION

Since the announcement of 40 channel expansion, many people in the CB industry have shown signs of instability. It is likely that this is due to the many rumors that have been passed around since the announcement. We feel it is time to separate fact from rumor, and to educate the industry and consumer.

FACT: After 1/1/77, 40 channel sets will be available for sale if FCC type accepted. They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, 23 channel sets will still be manufactured and sold. They will be more expensive than current 23 channel sets.

FACT: After 1/1/77, ALL CB transceivers type accepted after 9/20/76 must have a 60 dB Harmonic radiation suppression. They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, ALL CB transceivers must not exceed 2 nanovolts (2 billionths of a volt) receiver radiation at the antenna terminal. They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, on ALL CB transceivers, the chassis or cabinet radiation must not exceed 5 uV/Meter at a distance of 3 meters (approximately 5 millionths of a volt per yard measured at nearly 10 feet from the set). They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, all serial numbers must be stamped or engraved into new CB chassis. They will be more expensive.

FACT: After 1/1/77, all newly manufactured CB's must be packed with a copy of Part 95, a temporary license form, and a permanent license form. They will be more expensive.

FACT: The tighter specifications listed above do not improve CB performance, but only reduce potential for interference to certain business/industrial frequencies. They will be more expensive.

FACT: If all CB sales after 1/1/77 were 40 channel sets, and if sales continued at the present rate, 23 channel sets would still outnumber 40 channel sets for several years.

FACT: The majority of communications will still be on the present 23 channels.

FACT: Today's 23 channel sets represent a bargain to the consumer—we must inform him that prices will increase dramatically after 1/1/77.

RUMOR: 23 channel sets will become obsolete on 1/1/77. If you still believe this rumor after reading the above facts, please return to FACT #1 and read again.

Conference at WT

Dr. Hazel Barnes, University of Colorado classics department chairman, will be keynote speaker at the Fall Conference of the Classical Association of the Southwestern United States Oct. 2 at WTSU.

Dr. Barnes is a graduate of Wilson College and a doctoral graduate from Yale University. She has taught in Athens, Greece at Pierce College, University of Toledo, Ohio State University and at the University of Colorado since 1953.

As an editor and author, she has written numerous articles and books, including "An Existential Ethics," "Sartre" and "The University As The New Church."

The conference is open to the public at no charge. Registration will be from 8 to 9 a.m. in Room 101 of the University Complex South. Three papers will be presented during the morning session from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and three in the afternoon beginning with Dr. Barnes at 2 p.m.

Dr. Barnes will speak on "T. S. Eliot and Euripides' Rejected Choice."

Friendship club has visitation

The Friendship Sewing Club met in mid-September at the home of Mrs. E. L. Cranmer for an afternoon of visiting and the sharing of various articles, poems, and sayings.

The guessing box, which was filled with homemade jelly, went to Mrs. Herrick Simon. Next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. L. E. Hermesmeier, 3316 Lewis Lane, Amarillo on Oct. 7.

Attending were Mesdames L. E. Hermesmeier, Joe Turpin, Frank Simon, Nell Sheets, Tony Simon, Leonard Winters, Herrick Simon, Elizabeth Cranmer and a visitor, Mrs. Peggy Ferguson, daughter of the hostess, Mrs. Cranmer.

More seating available for WT's basketball fans

Over 200 new prime seat locations for the general public and the addition of new floor seating for WTSU students are the main features of a new seating plan for Buffalo basketball games in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum, announced this week by head coach Ron Ekker.

The change primarily concerns section 108 at midcourt on the east side of the arena. This section had previously been a student section, but in the future will be for sale to the general public.

In return, students will be receiving additional seating on the floor on either side of the "Buffalo Chips" pep band. In the past, this has been a "technical towel" section.

"We want to add the student seating on the floor because it helps give us a home court advantage and it also adds to the game atmosphere," Ekker explained.

Of the approximately 5,500 seats in the Civic Center for Buff basketball, 2,000 are reserved for students. All 200 of the student floor seats will be on the sideline with an additional 400 general admission seats in the end zones.

The Buffs begin their big push for season tickets on Nov. 1, although renewal orders are being solicited at present. Goal for this year's campaign will be 1,500 season tickets.

Season tickets are priced at $45.00 for the 15 game home season. Individual game tickets will remain at $3.50 for reserved seats and $2.50 for general admission. WTSU students will be admitted free, but they must pick up their tickets at the athletic ticket office on campus by 4 p.m. on the day of a game. After that time, student tickets may be sold to the general public.

After 4 p.m., students may still pick up tickets at the coliseum, but they will not be guaranteed seating in the student section. At the coliseum, student seating will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Buffs open the regular season on Nov. 27 against Panhandle State. In addition to the always tough Valley schedule, the team will host Jacksonville, Texas-El Paso, North Texas State, and Samford in top non-conference games.

Prior to the regular season, West Texas State will host the Brazilian National team on Nov. 22 in the Buffalo Fieldhouse on the Canyon campus. That game will not be part of the season ticket plan.

Canyon Junior High School cheerleaders for the current term include: April Howard, Stallings, Abbe White, Shonda Palmer, Gaylene Byrum and Stormy Moreland.

Used books are needed for project

Used books are being collected by the Canyon Friends of the Library for a "book sale" to be held later in the fall as a fundraising effort.

Boxes for collecting books have presently been placed throughout the city at the two banks, the city library, WT bookstore, and the supermarkets, where used books may be contributed.

Those who have large contributions of books may have them picked up by calling the city library at 655-9271.

4-H club views judging films

T-Anchor 4-H Club met recently for the viewing of a judging film by the National Quarter Horse Association.

Wendell Trammell, project leader, and Cathey Horton, club leader, presented the program and discussed judging teams, rodeo teams and showing teams.

In addition the club discussed an Oct. 9-10 garage sale at the WT horse barn, and a roller skating party for November.

Those attending the meeting were Rusty Dinuson, Eddy Vance, Randall Whipple, David Orendorff, Donnie Trammell, Chris Trammell, Greg Maples, Jay Huneycutt, Ken Krackenberg, Lloyd Krackenberg, Genat Tracy Robers, Alice Newsome, Wendy Sylei, Sharon Shaw, Caron Shaw and Connie Shaw.

Drug effects on fetus is studied

Research on hamsters to discover probable effects of two popularly used drugs on embryological development is being conducted at West Texas State University. Janice Smith, biology graduate student from Canyon, is making the study using the drugs valium and progesterone.

Probably effects of the hormone and drug include the retardation of growth in an embryo, deformation of limbs and the possible occurrence of cleft palates, according to Mrs. Smith.

"We just inject the hamsters with the drugs and wait to see what happens. At this point we are only postulating probable effects," Mrs. Smith said.

will help postulate its effect on human embryos, according to Mrs. Smith.

"Pregnant women also take drugs during pregnancy and valium is one of these often-used drugs," Mrs. Smith said. "We would like to know the effects of these drugs on embryological development."

Experimentation on fertilized hamsters begins by separating them into test groups and control groups. Both divisions have the same diet, but the control group is injected with sterilized water while test groups are injected with the drug or hormone, according to Mrs. Smith.

The hamsters are injected during the "sensitive period," the fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh days of gestation, Mrs. Smith explained. Hamsters have a gestation period of 15 days.

2tc27

"During this sensitive period, the embryo is developing. The spinal cord is forming; the limbs are developing," she said. "We inject the drug during this time because it seems to be the most critical period in the developmental stage."

2tc27

The embryo develops until the twelfth day, then is removed and viewed with the naked eye. It then goes through slide processing, she said.

In the slide process, the tissue is examined through a microscope for embryological changes. The undrugged control group undergoes the same process of viewing and slide processing. Then, test groups and control groups are compared and examined for developmental

"I've been doing this work for two-and-one-half months," she said. "This is not for my graduate work. I do plan to work with another drug for my master's degree. I just wanted to learn the methodology of drug research."

When it will be installed is another question.
"It depends on how fast the EPA wants us to comply," he said. "No one has contacted me personally and said we're going to have to comply. We have not set any schedule. It's going to be a long drawn out process."

The first guidelines will go into effect in June 1977 and full compliance is expected by 1981.
The Texas Water Development Board executive director James M. Rose of Austin said that if the state constitutional amendment is approved to raise $400 million in water development funds, the funds would probably be used to help towns meet the water standards.
Rogers said he did not know how Canyon will finance the de-fluoridation.

"I don't think the people are going to want to float a bond issue, especially when they've been drinking the water all their lives," he said.

He said the county now charges the hospital district 1 per cent of taxes assessed and collected and the school district 1/2 per cent of taxes collected. He noted that the Canyon Independent School District currently charges the City of Canyon five per cent to collect taxes for the city government.
A third recommendation was that commissioners establish a system to evaluate the information maintained and reported by each office-holder so that unit or item costs might in the future be determined.

Two other recommendations suggested commissioners pass two resolutions, one backing two pieces of legislation which will be presented the Texas legislature in January to hike fees of office of the county clerk, and the other urging representatives to hike the fees of office of each office-holder by a stipulated amount.

Commissioners took no action on either resolution and took no action on any of the other recommendations, pending an individual review of the report. The items are to be discussed again next Monday.

The court decided to enter into a joint purchasing arrangement with Amarillo in hope of saving money on county purchases.

Plans were made to purchase two new cars for the sheriff's department under this arrangement.

Judge Pond appointed Griffin as the county's representative to the Amarillo Board of City Development.

The court also agreed to pay $16 on the cost of an election school to be held jointly with Potter County and decided not to tint the windows of the courthouse annex in Amarillo.

Here in Canyon rainfall amounted to 1.32 inches. Most of that fell Monday when 1.13 inches was recorded.

The rain is sufficient now to benefit agriculture, Robinson said.

For farmers who have already planted wheat, the rain should be enough to get the crop started, Robinson said. Those who have waited to sow should have enough moisture to go ahead.

Robinson said the rain is economically very significant because the wheat market is so low now that farmers cannot afford to spend much money on irrigation.

Western swing in history

By BEVERLY MCCARLEY

As Waylon Jennings sings, "Bob Wills is still the king." With a 560 recording repertory and 58 years of show business, Bob Wills created a new music Western Swing, according to Dr. Charles Townsend, author of notes on two album jackets.

Townsend said, "The snobs that looked down on him (Wills) are gone to their grave and taken their snobbery with them. Bob Wills and creative people live forever."

Wills' newest album "Bob Wills and His Texas Playboys In Concert" was released this year and Townsend says it is appropriate to release this recording in the bicentennial year. The album is "a composite of many of the various musics and styles that have developed during the 200 year history of the United States."

"It is appropriate during the Bicentennial of the United States to relate Bob Wills' Western Swing to the musical heritage of the American people," Townsend said in the album cover.

The album is compiled of tapes of radio shows from the early sixties which contains music of the Bob Wills collection from the most basic folk tunes of the seventeenth century to modern big-band swing.

Bob Wills music and style had several major influences and has influenced today's music greatly, according to Townsend. The blues and jazz became as significant in the development of his styles as the fiddle music of the frontier.

Wills did not use the material and stylistic ideas of just the more "respectable" jazz artists, he was influenced heavily by what was called "race music" in the twenties and thirties — music of the blacks, by the blacks, and for the blacks, according to Townsend.

Other influences on the Bob Wills style was tin pan alley, Broadway big swing band music, and rock and roll. Townsend said that Wills wrote all his music with one major purpose — to dance to.

"Years before most musicians, Bob had discovered the appeal of undiluted black music and style," Townsend wrote. Negro influence on his own music, style, and life goes back to his very early childhood.

"St. Louis Blues," one of the album cuts, depicts Wills at his "uninhibited best," according to Townsend. "Singing the twelve-bar blues as he learned it working with blacks in the cotton fields of Texas, hollering like he did at the ranch dances in West Texas, and joking with his musicians like the Negroes did when he was a child."

The Western Swing creator witnessed before his death in 1975 what Townsend terms "The Bob Wills Renaissance." His repertory and styles are currently being revitalized by artists ranging from Commander Cody (the Eastern Swing of Western Swing), Asleep at the Wheel, Willie Nelson, and Waylon Jennings to Richard Betts, Alvin Crow, Merle Haggard, and Red Stegall.

In recent years, according to Townsend, Western Swing was featured at the University of Chicago Folk Festival, and this past summer Bob Wills' Texas Playboys appeared in Washington, D.C. at the Smithsonian Institute Folklore Festival.

Townsend said that his interest in Bob Wills goes back many years. "As a child I sensed he was different," Townsend was in Colorado vacationing when he received the request from Hollywood to do the cover for Wills' latest album.

Mrs. Wills insisted that Columbia records have Dr. Townsend compile the notes. Townsend wrote his story while on the road. Townsend said he enjoys writing "popular culture" because "you know that thousands are going to read it."

The final thought in the album

notes written by Townsend explains Wills' lasting popularity — "Bob Wills had the courage to revolt against formalism and tradition and break new musical ground."

Dr. Charles Townsend and Larry Scott display Bob Wills' album. Scott was given a grant by United Artists to travel around the country interviewing persons who helped with the album, "For the Last Time." He is with KFDI radio in Wichita, Kan.

Sue Hite Club of Canyon presented a special history bookshelf to the Canyon City Library this week as a segment of the club's bicentennial efforts. The bookshelf was accepted by Dr. Walter Shelly, president of the library board. Making the presentation, from left, were Mrs. Crews Henry, club historian and member of the bookshelf committee; Mrs. E. R. Reeves, overall bicentennial project chairman for the club; Mrs. Emmitt Smith, bookshelf project chairman; and Mrs. Larry Holman, club president.

Club donates bookshelf

As a part of their bicentennial efforts, the Sue Hite Club of Canyon this week presented Canyon City Library with a bookshelf to hold special books relating to area and national history.

The bookcase is of solid ranch oak featuring five shelves with the lower shelf being enclosed behind commode styled doors. The bookshelf is located to the right of the main entrance of the library.

Accepted by library board president, Dr. Walter Shelly, the bookcase was placed in the library early this week. Dr. Shelly, a long-time member of the library board, noted that "no segment of our community has done more for the benefit of the library than the women's clubs of the city."

Mrs. E. R. Reeves has served as the club's chairman for the overall bicentennial project committee. The bookcase was selected by a committee chaired by Mrs. Emmitt Smith which also included

Mrs. E. E. Perkins and Mrs. Crews Henry. Earlier this year, the Sue Hite Club sponsored an Heirloom Quilt Exhibit as its effort for the community Bicentennial Birthday of America. Some 75 handmade quilts and bedspreads were displayed at the occasion with Mrs. W. E. Miller as chairman. The Sue Hite Club, which celebrated its own Golden Anniversary in 1975, has Mrs. Larry Holman as current president.

WT team places

West Texas State's cross-country team, second place finishers last week at the Lubbock Christian College Invitational, take this week off. Their next meet will be Oct. 9 at Eastern New Mexico University.

Wives hold canyon tour

The Grab Bag interest group of Faculty Wives Etc. arranged a geology and plant tour of Palo Duro Canyon for faculty families last Saturday afternoon.

Exhibits were reviewed at the new park Interpretive Center while Dr. George Asquith discussed the paleo geography of the 190 million year old region. At that time, a mountain range cut across the state of Texas and was part of a system of mountains that may have connected with Norway and Sweden before the continents drifted apart.

Dr. Gerald Schultz, who was responsible for getting together some of the materials and information included in various display cases at the Interpretive Center, told the group that fossil evidence collected from the canyon indicate a very different and considerably wetter climate existed here in the past.

Following a picnic supper, Dr.

Robert Wright led a nature hike. One of the many plants examined by the group was Russian Thistle or Tumble Weed. It was first introduced into this country from Russia in the early 1900's. Spreading rapidly, it soon became the signature of the American west.

Before parting, the families sampled Mormon Tea brewed by Dr. Wright from stems of the Mormon Tea plant.

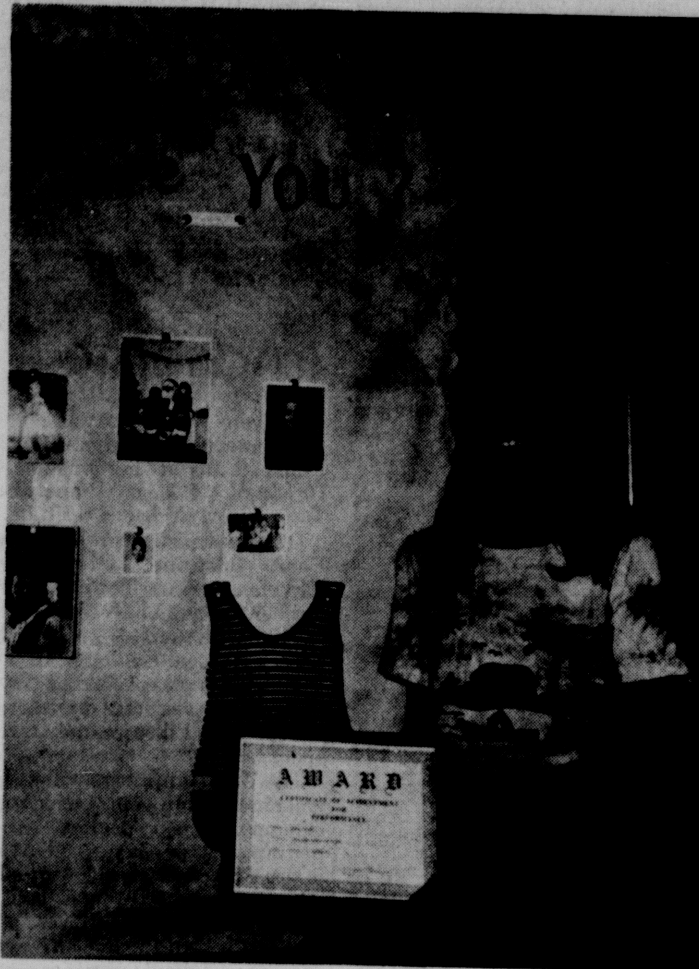

Sandy Sparling and Ann Asquith were co-hostesses for the activity.

Women to view

The West Texas State women's softball team will compete this weekend at the Texas A&M Tournament which gets under way on Friday.

The Buffs are coming off their 1-2 performance last weekend in Denton. WT defeated Eastfield 14-3, then lost to UT Arlington 8-0 and Stephen F. Austin 10-2.

The Buffs are now 5-5 before hosting Texas Tech on Monday night. After the Texas A&M tourney, they will travel to Lubbock on Oct. 4 to face Texas Tech.

Carol Rogers, Gene Howe 6th grader, is this week's Who are You? student in Mrs. Shoemaker's class. Carol received a certificate of achievement in school.

WT, UT Arlington
to clash Saturday

West Texas State and U.T. Arlington, football teams which think that breaks happen only to bones, square off Saturday night in a non-conference game on Arlington's Cravens Field. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Each team comes into the game with just one win, but both coaches think that total could be more if some good things had happened to them earlier this season. West Texas State is 1-1 after a 21-17 loss at Southern Illinois last week, while UTA is 1-3, its only win a 21-10 decision over New Mexico State two weeks ago.

Last week, both teams had substantial leads in the fourth quarter only to lose in the final moments. WT led 17-7 over SIU with just over 10 minutes to go, and UTA led 20-7 over Northeast Louisiana at the same time. NLU won that one, 21-20.

This week, the Buffs shouldn't have any trouble preparing mentally for the Mavericks. UTA rolled to a 39-7 win last year in Kimbrough Stadium, a game which stands out as the low point of the WTSU season. The Buffaloes gave the ball away nine times (six fumbles, three interceptions) and the Mavericks rushed for 400 yards on the night.

"They gave us a sound whipping last year," Buff coach Gene Mayfield says, "and we have never really played well against U.T. Arlington since I've been here. They have a bunch of people back from last year, and it should be no problem knowing their personnel and what they like to do."

Both teams have their complete backfields back from a year ago. West Texas' wishbone is led by fullback Bo Robinson, the 205-pound sophomore who is averaging 107 yards per game rushing, and halfback Anthony Dogan, the Valley's Newcomer of the Year last year who is rushing for 63 yards per game.

For UTA, halfback Jimmy Bailey (66.5 yards per game) and fullback Derrick Jensen (66.3) are the big running stars. Like WT, UTA runs the wishbone.

On defense, the Buffaloes and Mavericks also use similar alignments. Linebacker Jeff Nunn and cornerback Tommy Mills are the big men in the WTSU 4-3 defense, while linebackers Willie Thomas and Lance Stephens have been making most of the stops for the UTA defense.

Saturday's game will not be played on UTA's regular home field, Arlington Stadium. The Mavericks share it with the American League's Texas Rangers, who will be finishing their home season this weekend. Instead, the WTSU-UTA game will be played at Cravens Field, a local high school facility that seats 8,000.

Most of those 8,000 seats are expected to be filled for the game, however. The game will be part of Band Night with both the WT and UTA bands, plus numerous Arlington area prep outfits, in attendance.

Following the game at Arlington, the Buffs end their three-week road-stint with the Houston Cougars, the current leaders of the Southwest Conference.

Soccer team wins!

The West Texas State University soccer team, led by Ismail Said's final goal, won their first game in two years of play over Eastern New Mexico 3-1 at Canyon last Saturday.

The game represents a landmark for the WT soccer club, which hopes to become a varsity sport one of these days.

It was the second time this season that they met ENMU, losing the first one 2-1.

"We played the first half lousy," said player-coach David Seright. "I think that we were just jittery because we had the chance to win our first game."

The Buffs got on the scoreboard first on a goal by Larry Kraus. The entire game was played tense and both teams had opportunities to score many times, but good play on the part of the goalies and missed shots kept the score down.

With 30 seconds showing on the clock, and the score deadlocked 1-1, Seright made a free kick to give WT a 2-1 advantage. As the clock wound down to five seconds several discrepancies materialized.

The visitors from New Mexico insisted there were at least five minutes remaining to be played. In order to avoid any bitter feelings Seright ordered five more minutes and still came out on top.

The Buffs' next contest will come from North Texas State Oct. 2 in Denton. Just five years ago North Texas was in West Texas' place, a club sport trying to obtain varsity status.

"We are going to have a tough time beating them because they are very tough," said Seright.

CHS cleans up
for homecoming

Canyon High School students will get the feel of the rake, lawnmower and trash bag today as they clean the CHS campus in preparation for Homecoming.

The littered appearance of school campuses caused some unfavorable comments at a recent school board meeting and one board member advocated assigning students in physical education classes to clean-up once a week. That idea was rejected.

CHS students will be dismissed Thursday as soon as each home room cleans its assigned area.

Believer's baptism by immersion is our practice although our open membership policy allows persons of other Christian persuasions to transfer into First Christian Church.

Members believe immersion was the New Testament practice and that it is the most adequate symbol of complete surrender and of the re-enactment of the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ who died for the remission of our sins.

Through repentance and confession of faith in Jesus Christ, followed by baptism, we are born to a newness of life.

Happy news

Rodeo, roping, and art among activities

By MARY NEAL HENRY
HAPPY COWBOYS WON the team trophy at the Pampa Tri State High School Rodeo last week-end. Bobby Keeter won first place in bull riding, Eddie Joe Pearson won second in steer wrestling. J. T. Henry won third in bareback riding, Ronnie Howell won fifth in calf roping and Greg Carlile won sixth in calf roping. Congratulations!

WEATHER COOPERATED FOR the Seventh Annual Wesley-Sims Memorial Roping in which Arnold Felts of Oklahoma City won the average with a time of 68.76 seconds on four steers. He also won second in the first go-round for a total of $3,608 and a trophy saddle. That trophy saddle built by Stockman's Saddle Shop of Amarillo was a bicentennial red, white and blue. The padded seat was blue stitched with an eagle and liberty bell; the lacing was white and the stitching was red.

An arrow head, 1776-1976, and Wesley-Sims Memorial Roping was tooled into the skirts of the saddle. Truly, it was one of the most beautiful I've ever seen. Those saddles aren't just built to be pretty either. No steer will pull one apart.

Total prize money for the steer roping ran $7,120 plus the trophy saddle. Guy Allen of Santa Anna won second in the average; Mack Fortenberry of Adrian won third; and Rex Prather of Post won fourth.

Mack Fortenberry tied the fastest steer of the day in 12.54 seconds. That broke the record for the Happy arena.

First go-round winners were Butch Morgan of Colorado Springs with a time of 13.97; second was Arnold Felts with 14.92; third was Walter Arnold of Silverton with 15.14; and fourth was Bud Upton of San Angelo with a 15.77.

Second go-round winners were Mack Fortenberry with his 12.54; second was Lewis Kinkade of Tucuman with 15.65; third was

Jim Prather of Post with a 16.50; and fourth was Guy Allen of Santa Anna with a 16.97.

Third go-round winners were Charley Lynn of South Coffeyville, Oklahoma, with a time of 13.57 seconds; Buddy Cockrell of Pampa was second with 14.87; Walter Arnold was third with 15.75; and Kenny Call of Oklahoma City with 16.08 was fourth.

Marvin Cantrell of Nara Visa, New Mexico won the short go-round in 14.39 seconds and Bud Upton was second with 15.35 seconds.

Calf ropers roped for total prize money of $4,128 and a trophy buckle. Kenny Call of Oklahoma City won the average with a total time of 40.71 seconds on three calves. Terry Phillips of Iowa Park won second with a total time of 42.45. W. C. Sibley of Carlsbad won third with 43.36 seconds. Sam Brown of Adrian won fourth with 43.98 seconds on three.

First go-round winners were first, Terry Phillips with 10.04; second, Tatt Grammet of Portales with 10.42; third, Kenny Call with 12.80; fourth, Larry Cohorn of Las Cruces, with 12.28.

Terry Phillips won the second go-round, also, with 11.32; second was Junior Garrison of Duncan, Oklahoma, with 11.70; third was W. C. Sibley with 11.97 and fourth was Kenny Call with 12.86.

Sam Brown won the short go with 13.55 seconds. Kenny Call was second with 15.67.

Kenny Call took home $1,330 in prize money for the day and a trophy belt buckle. Terry Phillips was also a big winner with $1,272.

Janie Remier of Stinnett won the GRA barrel race with a time of 19.41 seconds. Patti Prather of Brownfield was second with 19.85. Diltvie Edmondson of McCauley won third with 19.91.

Pauline Wesley won the trip to the National Finals. Pauline won the trip a few years ago. She is the mother of the late Bowie Wesley. Can't think of anyone who deserves to win more.

THE ART SHOW had on exhibit beautiful art, paintings and bronze. Comparisons, financially, proved that it was successful. This year, over $1600 worth of art was sold. This is more than twice that sold of the previous year. And we intend to make that our goal next year — doubly so.

Happy artists who participated were Bob Hargrave, Mary Moudy, Zelma Selvidge, Mary Womack, Ollie Nichols, Frank Briscoe, and Jeff Whitman.

Other happy artists who hailed from other areas were Dave Brown of Granbury, Garland Weeks of Canyon, Justin Wells of Amarillo, Russell Brown of Amarillo, Steve Haley of Sayre, Stanley McDonough of Canyon, Paul Wiley of Lubbock, Mack White of Canyon, Jerry Teaff of Bula, and Kathryn Stephens of Tulsa.

I enjoyed getting to know Garland and Jayne Weeks. Garland does excellent work in bronze. He has a long horned cow and her calf in wax, that have not yet been cast, that are a delight to me.

Garland and Jayne, both, have such pleasant dispositions. They are really a joy to associate with. Jayne teaches horsemanship at WTSU. She would be an asset to any faculty.

Dave Brown and his wife are a very young couple from Granbury. In spite of his youth, Dave really has "it". He can draw those horses and cattle. Not every one can manage that and make them look right. Dave is one of the few members of the Working Cowboy Artists, a new organization of artists who are either cowboys or have been cowboys. They know how to make those correct details in a painting. When a cowboy looks at a painting and there is something wrong, it is immediately noticed. I don't mean just a flaw or a wrong stroke of the brush, I mean the tack or the setting, etc.

Justin Wells of Amarillo is a most pleasant and talented artist. His work is near perfect. At our show he exhibited quite a few sketches that were watercolored, so perfect they almost looked like prints. Justin has a portfolio coming out this next week that we got to view prematurely. It, too, is excellent work!

Russel Brown had another show last week-end also, but he was good enough to bring down a few paintings. We appreciate his cooperation. Russell has the Ticky Tacky Shop in Amarillo.

Steve Haley is a comparatively new artist from Sayre, Oklahoma. He does good work and often adds a touch of humor to it.

Stanley McDonough brought down some of his bronze. Although he is better known as the game warden, Stanley does really good work. I like his road runner that he named "Fast Feathers."

Jerry Teaff of Bula has a different technique with acrylics. Some of his paintings are so smooth that they scarcely look as if they are painted on canvas. He does great work and has some beautiful colors in his paintings.

Paul Wiley, now of Levelland but soon to be a Lubbock resident, has exhibited with us all three years of art shows. Paul was a cowboy before he turned to art for a living and he now has showings throughout Texas and New Mexico. He really can paint or sculpt. Paul has donated one of his latest bronze pieces, "Something to Hang Onto", to Girlstown, USA. The small girl is mounting a horse and he is carefully watching and waiting for her to mount up. The piece sell for $1,750 and all profits from each piece goes to Girlstown. Paul and Jan Wiley are also fine people.

Mack White, formerly of Happy, but a long time resident of Canyon, has begun producing some bronze pieces. He exhibited one of these along with his metal sculpture. We know how busy Mack is and really do appreciate his taking time to show his work at the Happy show.

We also appreciate the Happy Artists who participated. Local people especially appreciate getting to see what others in our community can do, but Happy has some really good artists.

A big thank you to all those (See HAPPY page 11)

Mrs. J. Edwin Low inspects a historic scroll naming an ancestor who was killed in the siege of the Alamo. The scroll, along with other mementoes and artifacts from the Low's mission work in Nigeria, will be seen during the October 10 home tour sponsored by University Study Club of Canyon.

Low's home on "tour"

The home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Low at 3302 Linda Lane in the eastern section of Canyon will be among homes open to visitors during the annual Harvest Home Tour to be held Oct. 10 by University Study Club of Canyon.

Tour hours will be 2-6 p.m. with local and area residents invited for guided tours of the four city homes. Tickets for the tour will be $1 per person and entitle the bearer to visit each home on tour that afternoon.

Tickets for the tour are presently available from USC members and will also be available at the door of each tour home on Oct. 10. Other homes on the tour, in addition to the Edwin Low home at 3302 Linda Lane, are the Elton Cox home at 1411 Creekmore, the Bill Piehl home at #25 Country Club Drive and the Jimmy Craig home, 10 miles south of the city on Highway 87 and two blocks west at Ralph Switch.

A "country kitchen" offering home baked goods, gift items and crafts will be open during the home tour at the Elton Cox home. The "kitchen" will be the second such effort sponsored by the University Study Club in conjunction with the tour of homes.

As tour guests arrive at the Low home, they will be greeted by a committee headed by Marilyn Johnson. Other members of the tour committee at the Low home will be Mary Jo Hales, Lynn Guy, Fern Bellah, Carol Harrell, Mary Alice Bond, Mary Ellen Garner, Jane Eller and Mildred Cannon.

Upon entering the Low home guests will be interested to note various artifacts and mementoes collected by the Low family during their 12 years of mission work in Nigeria, West Africa.

A southwestern influence is prevalent in art which accents the livingroom. The livingroom is framed by built-in bookshelves with a facing fireplace and extended hearth. An open-arch fronting the livingroom opens into the double study where built-in bookcases and storage space accommodate privacy for Dr. Low and his wife, Anita.

The three bedroom, two bath home, is graciously decorated with various art projects and needlecrafts done by Mrs. Low. In addition to large closets throughout the house, a massive central storage area is used for storage of completed paintings, card tables and other equipment and is set behind louvered doors in the dining area.

An open feeling in the dining room is acquired from the soft light flowing from the chandelier, as well as natural light which enters through the sliding glass doors. The dining room features a glass front built-in china display and the covered patio adjacent is designed for quiet entertaining.

Framing the patio, itself, are abundant late summer flowers and the downslope beyond is used for vegetable gardening.

From the double car garage at the Low home, the back entry takes on a corridor styling which passes through the utility area. The utility room is also generous in cupboard storage and features a work area with storage for art supplies, sewing and other crafts of the family.

Continuing the corridor style, the kitchen is designed for "maximum efficiency with a minimum of effort" according to Mrs. Low. The kitchen features dark wood cabinetry complemented with harvest yellow countertops and is completed with a breakfast bar repeating the harvest yellow color scheme.

The Low family settled in Canyon on return from their mission work abroad and have raised three children here including two sons and a daughter.

Their eldest son, Jonathan, is now in Washington, D.C. where he is director for Renaissance House, a temporary care facility for teen-aged boys.

The Low's daughter, Martha, teaches English to international students at the University of Houston.

David, who recently married the former Ellen DuVall, is a city traffic engineer in Macon, Georgia. His wife teaches EMR in the Macon Public Schools.

Lee services held

Funeral rites for Harry Lee, 72, of Amarillo were held at Schooler-Gordon Funeral Chapel with Dr. Joe Findley, retired minister, and Rev. Terry White of First Christian Church officiating.

Burial was at Dreamland Cemetery. Serving as pallbearers were Willie Weaver, Edwin Morrison, Gary Kraighausen, Ray Joe Riley, Anthony Stanford and Hugh F. Greiner.

Mr. Lee died Friday at Olsen Manor Nursing Home in Amarillo. He was born Sept. 2, 1904 at Ralls, Indiana. He was married to the former Opal Scott in 1933 and had been a salesman with National Cash Register Company for 40 years when he retired in 1970. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

The family requests memorials to the American Heart Association or a favorite charity.

Survivors include his wife, Opal of Amarillo; sisters, Janice Penrod and Mrs. Gladys Darrow of Marion, Ind.; two sister-in-laws, Mrs. V. E. Dodson of Hereford and Mrs. D. R. Weaver of Canyon.

patrons! Believe it or not, most of them were local people and we are most appreciative of their support for the Wesley-Sims Scholarship Fund.

An extra big "Thank You" to Bob Hargrave for all his help! Bob is not only a talented artist, but a walking catalogue of information, a carpenter, janitor, decorator and most pleasant person with which to work.

Jim McManigal donated a picket fence for a background for our art show and we are most grateful. Course, Jim didn't know it until after it was done. That is just another reason that we appreciate him so very much. Thank you, Jim.

TEXAS CATTLE FEEDERS Association held a seminar last Wednesday for secretaries and feed lot managers. I attended the seminar to learn more about the industry and the problems of that segment of the industry in particular. The day could not have been better spent.

Gary Culp was master of ceremonies and handled the day most efficiently and capably. He and Shirley Gill Baker, later in the morning, explained the organization of Texas Cattle Feeders and the services provided for its members. Among those were weekly newsletters and up-to-the-minute market news, five days a week. They maintain a wats line for members use.

The morning began with Larry Milner of Southwestern Public Service. He spoke on time management. One of the points that impressed me was that Larry had listened to the New Testament on tape recordings every morning while he shaved. Several weeks or months were required to complete the tapes, but nevertheless he had "found the time."

Representatives of the Dale Carnegie courses were next with "Attitudes of Success." Many enlightening thoughts were presented . . . all exemplifying that positive attitude.

The afternoon was filled with accounting problems, new IBM equipment, telephone etiquette, and professionalism. A certified secretary, Jeanine Bewley, explained the new tests now being given secretaries for certification.

The program was so good that TCFA plans to offer it again for those who were unable to attend last week.

Rita Venhaus Williams of Swisher Cattle Company and three other employees were in attendance.

The lunch was, of course, STEAK!

THURSDAY, I WORKED the Beef Carcass Show at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. IBP donated the rib sections of the winning carcasses to raise money for next year's High Plains Fed Beef Carcass Show.

Chances were one dollar donation and you had the opportunity to win over $75 worth of beef. These were the ribeye steaks, best part of the beef. My name was there, but they didn't call it, so I guess someone else won mine.

The opportunity existed to explain the different cuts of beef and at least part of the public took the time to ask. One lady had been killing her own beef for years, but she didn't know how to tell them what she really wanted. Now she knows. It is not a crime to not know, just to stay in that darkness.

Familiar faces at the fair included Kate Hudson, who now resides at Elizabeth Bivens Home in Amarillo. Mrs. Hudson looked very well and very happy and she brought one of her nurses around to see me. The nurse was Brenda Collie, a most attractive young lady. Mrs. Hudson tells me that her address is Box 469.

Hermion and Dudley McNeill rambled through. Then Evelyn and Rayford Shipman and Emil Ross stopped to chat. The Robert Adams were there that day. And Minnie Bible was touring the fair with a friend.

Willie Butler and I worked the Carcass Show while LaNelle Todd and Mrs. Mark Maynard worked the CowBelle Booth provided by Franklin Serum Company. That booth was in the bull barn.

HOMECOMING AT HAPPY High School was Friday. President Reed McDonald presided. I often do this column in the only time that I can find . . . late at night and in the middle of the night. At that time, I am most capable of making mistakes. I apologize to Reed and Joan McDonald, who have been presidents of the Happy Alumni for the past two years.

Diane Johnson, president of the Student Council, welcomed exes and students to Homecoming festivities. Diane announced that Brenda Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Parker, and Cody Grubb, son of Mrs. Leon Anderson, were crowned Flame Queen and King at the previous night's bonfire.

Reed McDonald added his welcome and introduced the officers. He introduced his wife, Joan; the vice presidents, Billie and Wayne Pearson; and Secretary-Treasurer, Maurine Allison.

Reed then introduced the Bi District Champions of 1956. Those present were Gene Shipman and Vincent Venhaus of Happy, Orrell Vise and Billy Penn of Amarillo and Wayne Cole of Rancie, Arizona.

Others on that team were Gary Caywood, Richard Bowe, Gary and Ray Poage, Jimmy Pearson, Jackie Paul Driskill, Gary Don Bowe, Don Parker, Fred Cole, Dub Oler, Bill Frost, Don Ed Middleton, Glenn Waters, Tommy Ferguson, Bill Tirey, Vernon Davis, Bowie Wesley and managers, A. G. House, Leland McBowell, Johnny Lemmons, and Jimmy Cox.

Coach at the time was Dempsey Alexander, now of Hereford. He arrived in time to give an inspirational talk. Gary Poage, of that team, was named High School All American.

Vilo Danner was present for the class of 1936, Linda McDonald for class of 1956, Gary Culp for class of 1966, and Cathy Parker, Mike Todd, Valerie Tipps, Connie Hand, Shawn Walters, and several of the class of 1976.

Joe Magness of Farwell and Jack Magness of Edinburgh were present to represent the Golden Anniversary Class of 1926. Jack Magness presented to Happy High his Gold letter sweater with the Black 'H' on the front and the Happy Jack emblem on the sleeve and the money with which to have it renovated and displayed. Maureen Allison received the sweater for Happy.

Representing the twenty fifth silver anniversary class were Reed and Joan McDonald, Billie Pearson, Don Magness, Dorothy Sims Morton, Shirley Fuls Neff, Nadine Lyles (class sponsor), Mildred Dunn Miller and Tom Henry.

Ex-teachers introduced were Nadine Lyles, 1951; Bill Mason of Plainview, 1917 and 1918; Ora Mary Sims, 1944-46; and Camillia Greenfield of (several years) to 1964.

Jack Magness was the one traveling the longest distance. He is from Edinburgh and Wayne Cole was from Arizona.

Mrs. John Irlbeck was the one present who has sent the most children to the Happy schools.

Eldiest in attendance were Bertie Culp and Mrs. John Irlbeck.

Four generations present were Sara Gurley, Ora Mary Sims, Sara Tirey and Jim and Laura Tirey. The Hollands are another four generation family in our community.

There are at least 45 third generation children attending Happy schools. Seventeen children named Sims have attended Happy schools and seven of these are in school now.

A short memorial was held for those who had passed away during the current year. These included Grace White, Clark Neff, Viola Buchanan, Carol "Hap" Hancock, Ross Duff, Billy S. McClure, Speck Aikeman, Elois Markham, Lester Know, George Uselding, Buck McCarley, Genevieve Reed, Shirley Coille, Ralph Walter Stubblefield, and about seven others. (I'll catch up next week).

New officers elected were President, Billie and Wayne Pearson; Vice presidents, Lawana and Buddy Selvidge; and Secretary-Treasurer, Maurine Allison.

Shannon Wilhelm introduced the three candidates for Homecoming queen. Diane Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Johnson, was escorted by Guy Walt Via. Susan SoRelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior SoRelle, was escorted by Eddie Joe Pearson. Bonnie Briscoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Briscoe, was escorted by Cody Grubb.

J. T. Henry revealed the winner by crowning Bonnie Briscoe with a rhinestone tiara. He also presented her with a bouquet of flowers accompanied by a kiss. Then J. T. presented each of the runners-up a mum.

During the pep rally led by head cheerleader, Lisa Payne, pep talks were given by Eddie Joe Pearson, a captain, and head coach Cleve Vessels.

Coach Vessels introduced the Happy Football Team of 1976-77. Each was introduced, escorted across the stage, and presented an apple by the cheerleaders.

Happy Cowboys this season are J. T. Henry, Cody Grubb, Eddie Joe Pearson, Guy Walt Via, Russell Boman, Stanley Dietz, Jay McCarley, Ronnie McDonald, Sammy Moore, Tim Moudy, Neal Odom, Tim Parker, Jim Bob Sims, Leslie Weavers, Corrin Freeman, Doug Sims, Vincent Venhaus, Jimmy Williams, Raphe Shipman, Richard McKelvey, Tommy Patillo, Jim Scott, Dan Pulsipher, and managers, Mike Fellers and Tracy Hamblen.

The pep rally closed with the school song.

HAPPY COWBOYS LOST the game that night 14 to 30 to Lazbuddie. The game began with a bang when Sammy Moore run the opening kick-off back for a touchdown. Eddie Joe Pearson made the later touchdown. But repeated fumbles lost the game for the Cowboys.

A new gate to the Cowboy Corral is begun. The iron work is black with gold letters, very impressive. Bricks will complete the gate. If you care to buy a brick for the gate to the football field, see a member of the student council. (Nobody told me what one cost).

Wranglers traveled to Lazbuddie on Thursday to play and dropped that game also.

WINFIELD MILLER, AUTHOR of the "The Happy Cooker" and J. W. (Bill) Mason of Plainview, author of the "You Can Be Happy Though Retired" exchanged books at the Happy Homecoming. Bill Mason was a teacher at Happy in 1916 and 1917 and again in 1917-18.

He taught the twins, Winfield and Willard Miller, spelling. Winfield made a score of 95.5 and beat Willard's 95.4. So, Winfield won the medal for the spelling and left it on his tie. His Mom later burned the medal or threw it away when she discarded several old ties.

Viola Buchanan taught here

while Mr. Mason was principal at Happy.

ARCH JOHNSON WAS taken to Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon very early Sunday morning with an apparent heart attack, although the family is not sure that is what the condition was.

KAYE LYNN STUBBLEFIELD was taken to the hospital on Monday afternoon. Kaye has had bronchitis and had a reaction to some of the medicine that she was taking. Kaye was ill enough to require glucose.

Ralph Huseman remains in Veterans' Hospital. Remember these!

RAIN WAS GENERAL in the area. Heavy hail damaged crops just south and southwest of Wayside. In some fields, enough grain was beat out of maize heads to fill turn rows and was sufficient to turn wheat black. See ya, Mary Neal.

WE THINK YOU ARE LOOKING AT US!

In a recent study by a well-known research company it was determined that you, the public wanted to find a family pharmacist whom you could relate to on personal terms. You know, like in years past, where the local pharmacist was someone with whom you could talk.

We try very hard in our pharmacy to maintain just that type of relationship with our customers (we think of you more like friends). Whoever is on duty filling prescriptions is always available, really wants to say a friendly hello, is ready to answer ethically any questions, and to help in any way that is possible. Come in and see for yourself.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

Fair was fun

BY FARRIS ANN MORRISON
A MIRACLE OCCURRED last Tuesday. Cherry Winters, Marion Marra, and Mrs. Dodson took the afternoon Kindergarten to the Fair, and not one child had to go to the bathroom! (My mother said, "How long did they stay? Three minutes?")

I know my two are in-veterate rest-room explorers. No matter where we go, they check out the facilities first (and then again and again).

Seriously, back to the fair: the kids saw all the available animals, had a snowcone, and received a balloon. Cherry said the kids behaved perfectly and had a wonderful time.

GENE HOWE is preparing for a deluge of student teachers on Oct. 25. Thursday the young ladies observed for the day with their supervising teachers.

General purposes for this day are to get acquainted with the personnel, schedule, textbooks and programs offered; also to select a unit to teach and visit with the supervising teacher.

Those taking part will be: Brenda Brownlee under Mrs. Taylor, Oralia Cervantes (Mrs. Woodward), Sandra Christian (Mrs. McGill), Nancy Drake (Mrs. Niemeier and Miss Layman), Linda Fike (Mrs. Langen), Consuela Flores (Miss Layman and Mrs. Niemeier), Gayle Harvey (Mrs. Harp and Mrs. Tillinghast), Janet Hodges (Mrs. Tillinghast), Alycia Lambert (Mrs. Stevens), Celia McAdams (Mrs. Ramakers), Jana Minyard (Mrs. Shoemaker), Marsha Thomas (Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Harp), Pamela Vestal (Mrs. Trew), and Judy Willis (Mrs. Phillips).

Julie Hipp has been doing a practicum (15 hours prior to student teaching) under Jerri Langen. Julia is from Kress and hopes to teach retarded children. She will do her student teaching next fall.

WE HAVE HAD lots of mommas working at school making game boards for the first grade teachers. They never had this stuff when I was in school, and I think it's great.

Vondene McGregor gave us the ideas and got us started. The kids should really have some terrific learning experiences.

FIRST AND SECOND grade girls won their soccer game against South Georgia 3-2. Kelly Bulla and Cassie Meier made our scores.

The fourth grade boys beat Avondale 26-0. Lynn Vanlandingham and Mark White were our scorers. J. T. Jolley and T. C. Newkirk coach the third grade boys in soccer. The boys have played four games, lost three but won the game against Western Plateau. All but one of the games have been very close.

Boys on the team are Scott Stewart, Tod Wilcox, Rob Bulla, Greg Cates, Ernest Chedester, Shay Bowling, Ronnie Williams, Donnie Myers, Hal Simpson, Michael James, Jimmy McMaisters, Scott Boyd, Scott Newkirk, Tod Jolley, Bud Vance, Tony Warren, Trent Rosenbaum, Randy Stevens and Ronnie Stevens.

THURSDAY WAS PACK Meeting, a miniature Olympics. All of Pack 130 participated, and the following boys won gold, silver, and bronze medals (in that order): Eight year old division Rob Bulla, Jay Newkirk, Shane Palmer, nine year olds Dub Austin, Delbert Hollis, Lynn Vanlandingham; ten year olds Chris Knight, Mark White, and Don Meier.

The gold medal winners will go on to participate in an area meet. Congratulations!

HALF OF OUR Open House was held Monday. Parents attended a meeting, then visited in the classrooms. Mrs. Miller prepared her classroom by having each student make a papier mache replica of themselves complete with clothes and life-sized. The dolls sat at the desks "studying".

Refreshments were served — each PTA officer provided cookies, 48 dozen in all! Darlene Plank, our hospitality chairman did a great job. All officers were introduced as well as fourth through sixth grade teachers, special education teachers, and staff.

Barbara Wood presented our budget and of especial interest to Miss Jokerst in campout for summer

Laura Jokerst of Canyon was chosen this past summer by the Amarillo Girl Scout Council to attend one of the Wider Opportunities programs sponsored by other Councils.

She took part in "Saddle Straddle" in National Center West, Ten Sleep, Wyo.

She and the seven other Panhandle Scouts who attended the summer programs will be available to relate their experiences to other troops.

all of us is the PTA contribution to Gene Howe for this year: $1,313.50. Tell that to those who think PTA only drinks coffee and gossip! We have a certificate of deposit for $1,000 which is earmarked for our blacktop.

The school board has put this matter on its agenda for October, so we should see results soon. There's lots more that PTA has done and does do; PTA is you and you have done a really good job.

CONNIE HORNSBY HAS the chicken pox. Hope she feels better soon, but more I hope she hasn't started something!

REMEMBER NO SCHOOL October 4, and Kindergarten through third Open House, 7 P.M., Oct. 11. See you there.

School's out

Students will get a holiday Monday while teachers take an in-service training session.

All Canyon Independent School District schools will re-open for students Tuesday.

Band Parents serving spaghetti supper

Canyon Band Parents will be sponsoring their annual spaghetti supper Friday evening, October 1, preceding the Canyon High School homecoming.

To be served in the high school cafeteria, serving will begin at 5 p.m. and residents may purchase tickets at a cost of $2.50 for adults, $2 for junior high and high school or $1.50 for elementary and pre-school.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or from high school and junior high school band students according to J. W. King, band director. Serving will continue until 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary D. Stark of 4624 Cherokee, Amarillo, announce the birth of a son, Joel Dale, on Sept. 14 at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby boy weighed 9 pounds, 3 ounces and measured 22½ inches at birth. He has an older brother, Matthew Burton Stark.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Neil Downing of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Stark of Amarillo.

Proceeds from the annual project benefit Rex Reeves and Gene Howe Elementary Schools, Canyon Junior High School and Canyon High School band programs which are presently not covered in the regular school budget.

Funds annually go toward the end of school party for the band students, to purchase additional stage band equipment and other equipment as needed by the band, to furnish, sound and color film for the marching band and for support of band trips on alternate years.
